GUARDSMAN WHO KILLED WOMAN IN AUTO FREED

Military Court Acquits Private Who Fired at Car When on Duty in Flood Area.

DEFENSE CALLED SHOOTING ACCIDENT

Prosecution Held Roy Bixler Was Negligent and Careless in Death of Arkansas Resident.

By the Associated Press.

NEVADA, Mo., Aug. 15.—A military court today found Private Roy Bixler, Missouri national guardsman, innocent of manslaughter charges in connection with the fatal shooting of Miss Harriet Hasty, 40 years old, of Paragould, Ark.

The 14 officers comprising the court returned their verdict after deliberating 50 minutes.

Attorneys argued one hour and 30 minutes, the prosecution contending Bixler was negligent and careless in shooting Miss Hasty and the defense asserting the shooting was accidental.

Argument of Prosecutor.
Capt. Nathaniel B. Rieger of Kirksville, the prosecuting attorney, said a defenseless woman had been killed and told the court members they had a responsibility to punish Bixler.

Bixler, he said, had been "cutting up and having a good time, showing off for the benefit of an audience," while he was on guard duty during a flood in Southeast Missouri last spring.

Two days before the fatal shooting on March 21, Capt. Rieger said, Bixler exceeded his orders and shot at least two cars in a rivalry which had sprung up as to whether sentries could stop motorists. He pointed out Bixler had been in the National Guard two years, had taken a full course in handling a rifle and was a proficient marksman.

"You men cannot take lightly the loss of life," he said. "The guard was sent to the flooded area to protect property and life, not to destroy it."

Scene Re-Enacted.
Private Bixler testified yesterday the killing was accidental. Holding the rifle which fired the fatal bullet, he re-enacted the scene on the banks of the flooded St. Francis River, in Dunklin County, on the night of March 21.

A charge of murder was withdrawn at the opening of the court-martial and a charge of manslaughter was substituted, alleging Bixler "carelessly and negligently pointed a loaded rifle and handled same in a careless and negligent manner."

Bixler testified he was patrolling a post about 150 yards from the Hopkins bridge, seat of operations by guardsmen, relief workers and farmers in repairing levees along the river.

"I was ordered to halt all cars traveling at an excessive rate of speed, or about 20 miles an hour," he testified. "My instructions were to fire in the air if they failed to halt, signaling a second sentry 50 yards distant to attempt to stop them." Bixler showed how he waved his lantern and started toward my rifle to fire in the air. The trigger must have caught on my cartridge belt."

West testified he was driving about 25 miles an hour and that he did not hear the guard's command to halt.

SNOWDEN SAYS POWERS, THROUGH COWARDICE, ARE HELPING MUSSOLINI

Former British Chancellor of Exchequer Declares Italian Dictator Will Laugh at League—Fears New World War.

(Viscount Snowden of Icknesham, former British Chancellor of the Exchequer and Labor Leader, broke a lifetime rule against commenting publicly when he wrote the following article for the Associated Press on the eve of the Tripartite Conference in Paris for discussion of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.)

By VISCOUNT SNOWDEN.
(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press.)
TILFORD, Surrey, England, Aug. 15.—The Italo-Ethiopian dispute has in it all the elements of a world war.

International affairs are now so inter-related an apparently trivial incident may have immense unexpected consequences.

The murder of an Austrian Archduke was the match which set into a huge conflagration combustible material which for years had been accumulating.

Menace to World Peace.
The elements constituting the present menace to world peace as a result of the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia may be summarized as follows:

1.—The Covenant of the League of Nations and the Paris Pact make an isolated dispute the business of all the signatories to these documents.

2.—Unprovoked attack by one of the nations upon another member of the League compels the League to come to the assistance of the jeopardized nation. Under the Paris Pact such an attack becomes a violation of international law and morality.

3.—Italy persists in her declared intention to attack and conquer Ethiopia, then her action is clearly in violation of both the Covenant of the League and the conditions of the Paris Pact. In the event of war the League must, if it discharges its obligations, take military or economic sanctions against Italy.

There is no doubt about the intentions of Italy. Mussolini has made these intentions abundantly clear. He has for all practical purposes already declared war.

He has been moving troops on the border of Ethiopia for months, only waiting for suitable climatic conditions to launch his attack. He has repeatedly stated that, League or no League, he will persist in his determination.

One certain outcome of this war will be to unite the colored peoples of the world. Grave unrest in all the colonial possessions of the European Powers will break out. This will create a situation the outcome of which is incalculable. In the face of such dangers the council of the League of Nations has shown an impotence which is appalling. Its members, particularly Great Britain and France, have been afraid to take a firm line with Italy. Their dilatory methods have been an encouragement to Mussolini, who has treated them with contempt.

These dilatory methods have served Mussolini's purpose as it has given him time to make his preparations for war. If the League council had denounced these war preparations as an act of war and enforced the terms of the covenant, then the situation might have been saved.

Three powers are now meeting in Paris to talk. It is certain they will do nothing but talk. They will frame a meaningless formula and leave it at that. Mussolini will go on with his war preparations and when autumn comes will make his attack and laugh at the weak-spirited council of the league.

The European powers are, in fact, by their cowardice accessories to Mussolini's actions. They are preventing military equipment from being sent to Ethiopia and this will leave against the powerful equipment of the Italian armies. These powers are leaving Ethiopia to be butchered to make a Roman holiday.

PROSECUTOR AND JUDGE AT ODDS OVER TIFF STRIKE

Attorney Eversole Refuses Jurist's Request to File Contempt Information Against Organizer.

SAYS MATTER IS NOT IN HIS JURISDICTION

Judge E. M. Dearing, Who Issued Injunction, Points Out He Can Act Himself, With Warrant.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

POTOSI, Mo., Aug. 15.—Circuit Judge E. M. Dearing announced today that he had requested John A. Eversole, Prosecuting Attorney of Washington County, to file an information against Joe Morris, organizer of the American Workers' Union and chief leader of the strike of 2600 tiff miners, charging Morris with contempt of court, and that Eversole had refused to do so.

The Judge's charge of contempt was based on utterances made by Morris in a speech on the Court-house steps Monday, when he criticized the issuance of a temporary injunction against interfering with operation of the National Pigments & Chemical Co. plant, and when he suggested that Judge Dearing should be impeached.

Case Without Parallel.
"I went to Mr. Eversole yesterday," Judge Dearing said to the correspondent, "and requested issuance of the information, not as a personal matter, but to protect the dignity of the court over which I have presided for 25 years. In that time, the present case is without a parallel, to my knowledge."

"I was not trying to have Mr. Morris thrown into jail," he said. "It would have been possible for me to issue a bench warrant and have him brought into court at once. Instead, issuance of an information would have been followed by notice for him to appear in court within a reasonable time, probably 10 days, and show why he should not be held in contempt. It would be agreeable to me to have any other judge preside at the hearing. Mr. Eversole said he would issue the information, but he later changed his mind and sent me a letter in which he declined to act."

Prosecutor's Letter.
The text of the Prosecuting Attorney's letter was:

"Dear Judge: Referring to our conversation of this morning concerning the filing of an information in Circuit Court against Joe Morris for contempt of court, I have decided, after further consideration and consultation with other attorneys, that it is a matter that does not lie within the jurisdiction of my office. Under these circumstances, I am sure you will appreciate that it is my duty to respectfully decline to do so."

Prosecuting Attorney Eversole was out of town today. Judge Dearing said he did not intend to let the matter rest, but did not indicate his next line of action. He is to hold a hearing in court here tomorrow on the application of the National Pigments & Chemical Co. for a permanent injunction against interference with operation of its plant. He issued a temporary injunction Aug. 2, three days before the strike was called. The strikers have kept the Morris plant surrounded by pickets, and have prevented entrance of workers, so that the company has been unable to resume operations. It is expected that the company will charge the pickets with violation of the temporary injunction.

GANGSTER SUED FOR $100,000 BY FEDERAL AGENT'S WIDOW

John Paul Chase Named as Killer of Samuel P. Crowley in Fight at Barrington, Ill.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—John Paul Chase, former Dillingham gangster, was sued for $100,000 damages yesterday by the widow of Samuel P. Crowley, Department of Justice agent, killed Nov. 17, 1934, in a pistol fight at Barrington, Ill. Chase is serving a life sentence for the crime at Alcatraz Island prison in San Francisco Bay.

The suit was filed by Mrs. Lavon C. Crowley of Salt Lake City in behalf of herself and two minor children. It names Chase as the killer of her husband, George (Baby Face) Nelson, gangster, who was killed in the same fight.

APPEALS COURT BARS CITY-OWNED LIGHTING PLANT

Rules Arkansas - Missouri Power Co. Is Entitled to Injunction Forbidding Kennett, Mo., to Build.

REVERSES DECISION BY JUDGE FARIS

Delegation of Authority Voids Contract of Town With PWA, Unanimous Opinion Declares.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in an opinion today, held that the Arkansas-Missouri Power Co. was entitled to an injunction to restrain the city of Kennett, Mo., from building a municipal electric light plant under an arrangement with the PWA.

The opinion, written by Judge Sanborn and concurred in by Judges Gardner and Woodruff, all Federal Circuit Judges, reversed a ruling made by Federal Circuit Judge Faris last February when he was judge of the District Court in St. Louis. Judge Faris dismissed the power company's application for an injunction.

PWA Contract Declared Void.
Provisions of the contract between the city of Kennett and the PWA by which the Federal Government retained a large measure of control over the construction of the plant, for which PWA made a loan of $120,000 and a grant of $30,000, were said by the Circuit Court to be such as to render the contract "absolutely null and void."

The court said that under the terms of the contract the city undertook to delegate to the Government many discretionary functions which belonged properly to the legislative body of the city and could not, under Missouri laws, be delegated to any other person.

Provisions Objected To.
The court mentioned as invalid provisions of the contract giving the Federal Government authority over the selection of labor and over minimum wages, hours of work and the selection of materials.

The court said, "that in selling its bonds or otherwise financing the project, it (the city) may not delegate any substantial discretion with respect to the selection of labor or the materials to be furnished, or share with that person the authority to direct the construction of the plant. Were it not for the fact that the United States is financing the project, we do not believe it would even be suggested that a city could enter into any such arrangement with a lender of money, a buyer of bonds or contractor."

The contract with the PWA, the court said, "leaves the city little or no discretion with respect to the construction job."

Defines Lawful Contract.
The contract would be lawful, the court added, if the Government did not require delegation of authority, or if the Government were willing to buy the city's bonds and make it a grant and then "let the city build its own plant in its own way."

The same conclusions would apply to the City of Trenton, Mo., where a private corporation sought an injunction against a municipal plant. The court said, but in that case it held the District Court was without jurisdiction and so dismissal of the injunction suit was justified on that ground.

In the Kennett case the Court of Appeals decision makes it mandatory for the District Court to grant the injunction.

PRESIDENT GOING TO HYDE PARK To Attend Party on Franklin Jr.'s 21st Birthday.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Roosevelt will leave the White House late tonight for a week-end at his home in Hyde Park, N. Y.

Apparently satisfied with progress in the Senate on the tax bill, Roosevelt decided early today to make the trip. Mrs. Roosevelt for a long time has planned a family party at Hyde Park on Saturday to celebrate the twenty-first birthday of Franklin Jr., the third son. The President expects to return here early next week.

Please be advised that if you do include my name it will be done against my wishes, and I desire that you do not send me a copy thereof," he said. Ashurst caused the letter to be printed in the Congressional Record.

4 KILLED WHEN AIR LINER FALLS, BURNS IN TEXAS

Plane Crashes in Darkness Near Gilmer After Circling Cotton Field in Vain Attempt to Land.

By the Associated Press.

GILMER, Tex., Aug. 15.—Two pilots and two passengers were killed in a crash in a cotton field 12 miles west of here before daylight today after the left engine of a trimotored Delta Airlines plane tore loose and fell. The plane was destroyed by fire.

The plane had only two motors when it crashed. The missing motor was found a mile from the scene.

The dead: Andy Dixon, Monroe, La.; pilot; Herbert Bulkeley, Dallas, Tex.; co-pilot; J. W. Thompson, Atlanta, Ga.; and P. A. Ivy, Birmingham, Ala., passengers.

The bodies, burned, were taken from the ship by Guy Weldon and Herbert McWhorter, farmers, who heard the plane circle over McWhorter's cotton field shortly before the smashup.

Weldon said he heard the roar of the motor and looked up to see the plane drop several fathoms. It circled over the level cotton patch as if to land, and then crashed at about a 20-degree angle with a loud explosion.

Weldon and McWhorter attempted to put out the fire with sand, but were forced to wait until the flames had subsided sufficiently to allow them to pull the bodies from the wreckage.

The ship was bound from Dallas to Atlanta.

Some mail from the passenger-mail plane was retrieved before being burned, but much of the cargo was lost.

Gilmer is in East Texas, about 20 miles northeast of Longview, and near the Louisiana border.

HOUSE COMMITTEE KILLS MIDGET MONEY MEASURE

Chairman Says There Are Other Ways for States to Collect Sales Taxes.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The administration's plan to issue midget coins to be used for the collection of State sales taxes was killed today by the House Coinage Committee.

The committee, concluding hearings on the bill, tabled it for this session of Congress.

Chairman Somers of the committee said: "We feel the matter is primarily a State problem and there are several means available for them to deal with collecting sales taxes without disturbing the currency system of the country."

States may consider the issuance of stamps or coupons, Somers declared, or they might issue tokens. "We see no objection to the use of tokens," he continued, "so long as they are not issued as legal tender. Even if a state receives notes for taxation, stamped on metal, that does not alter their status as notes."

HOPSON WILL BE SENATE WITNESS, HIS LAWYER SAYS

Announcement Made After House Committee Votes to Let Black's Group Have Him — Chairman O'Connor Repudiated.

HAD REFUSED TO TURN HIM OVER

Alabama Senator on Floor Denounced Shielding of 'Hiding, Running, Dodging Utility Official' — Contempt Action Pending

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The unprecedented conflict between House and Senate lobby investigating committees for custody of Howard C. Hopson, rotund and dissembling utility magnate, reached a crisis today, and the House yielded. More accurately, the House Rules Committee yielded under the pressure of sentiment among House members, many of whom were volubly indignant over the action of Chairman John J. O'Connor, of the committee, in concealing Hopson from the Senate.

After Senator Hugo Black (Dem.), Alabama, chairman of the Senate investigating committee, had delivered a solemn announcement on the Senate floor, indicating the House committee for shielding and protecting "a hiding, running, dodging utility official," and reproaching the House for violating "the rule of comity," the House Rules Committee approved a resolution providing that, while Hopson remained in its custody he would be made available to the Senate committee whenever he was not before the House Committee.

Statement by Lawyer.
Immediately afterward, Moultrie Hitt, Washington attorney for Hopson, appeared in the Senate press gallery and announced that Hopson considered himself in the custody of the House Rules Committee, but would cheerfully appear and testify before the Senate committee whenever permitted by the House.

The action of the Rules Committee amounted to a repudiation of O'Connor's action. That it came just in time to forestall more drastic action by the House itself seemed obvious when Representative Wearin (Dem.), Iowa, told the House that the committee's appropriation should be impounded at once, because "he has accomplished nothing, and obviously does not intend to accomplish anything." Wearin's impassioned accusation was greeted with cheers.

The disclosure that O'Connor's brother, Basil O'Connor, recently received a legal fee of $25,000 from Hopson's Associated Gas & Electric system for services which were never positively described, has added fuel to the resentment of House members who objected to his general treatment of Hopson.

Citations for Contempt.
Late yesterday the Senate cited Hopson and his Boston attorney, William A. Hill, for contempt. Hopson is charged with refusing to accept a Senate subpoena Tuesday and with refusing to obey one which was served on him yesterday. His attorney is charged with interfering with the attempt to serve Hopson Tuesday. The Senate directed its Sergeant-at-Arms, Chesley Jurney, to serve the citations immediately.

Jurney found Hill last night in the cocktail bar of a fashionable hotel, and served him with the citation, but could not find Hopson. On the contrary, he encountered Representative O'Connor and upon inquiring for Hopson's whereabouts was told by O'Connor:

"He is in our custody, and you will not get him under any consideration until we are through with him."

Hill presented himself at the bar of the Senate today, but upon Black's motion his case was continued until such time as Hopson is taken into custody. Rapid-moving events indicated that this would not be much longer postponed.

"A Shameful Farce."
When the Rules Committee's resolution, providing for the "arrest" of Hopson, was presented on the floor, Representative Rankin (Dem.) Mississippi, declared that the whole proceeding was "a shameful farce."

"Imagine this House solemnly voting to 'arrest Hopson,' he said, "when it is admitted by the author of the resolution that Hopson already is in our custody, that he has

LAVAL TALKS WITH ITALIAN IN EFFORT TO PREVENT WAR

French Premier Tells Baron Aloisi That Conflict Would Halt Europe's Long Move for Peace.

POWER PARLEY OPENS TOMORROW

Britain Prepared to Go as Far as Possible in Economic Concessions to Save Ethiopia.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Aug. 15.—Programs for war and peace in East Africa were considered by Premier Laval of France and Baron Pompeo Aloisi of Italy as they conferred for an hour in the former's office today. Their talk seemed only to deepen the pessimism of officials.

Premier Mussolini's right hand man went to Laval with three arguments:

1. Italy must protect Eritrea and Italian Somaliland against a wild and dangerous nation (Ethiopia) by disarming it.
2. Italy must expand into colonies as Great Britain and France have done.
3. Italy is starved for raw materials and must develop its own supplies.

To these arguments, Laval had the following answers:

1. War would wreck Europe's long-drawn-out efforts for peace and, possibly, even the League of Nations.
2. War would cost men and money and create hatreds, although Mussolini could attain his desires gradually and peacefully.
3. War would endanger or break the English-Italian control of Europe.

Further Conference.
Following his meeting with Aloisi, Laval conferred with his ministry experts, who are preparing arguments and suggestions for further development. He gave them not only the Italian suggestions but also the British as presented to him yesterday by Anthony Eden, British Minister for League of Nations Affairs.

Eden returned to the Quai d'Orsay late in the afternoon and emphasized Great Britain was prepared only to consent to Italy's economic penetration of the African empire—not to a political penetration.

Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia had a chance to present his side to Laval through Telsa Hawariat, his minister. Hawariat saw Laval shortly before Laval's second talk with Eden. Nicholas Politis, who is expected to be officially appointed as a fifth arbitrator on the Laval dispute, also conferred with Laval.

The British are calling these three-power conversations "the last chance" to transform war into peace before the League of Nations Council meets Sept. 4 at Geneva.

Following his morning conference, Premier Laval said only: "I had a preliminary talk with Baron Aloisi. Tomorrow morning there will be a meeting of the signatories of the three-power treaty of 1906."

(By the treaty of 1906, Great Britain, France and Italy guaranteed the integrity and independence of Ethiopia.)

What Britain Proposes.
Britain is prepared to go as far as possible in the way of exclusively economic concessions and guarantees to Italian interests in East Africa. It might even, in informed circles said, repeat its offer to cede Ethiopia a port and a corridor through British Somaliland.

One of Eden's proposals is said to be a system of capitulations similar to those of China and Turkey. Some foreign consuls enjoy extrajudicial powers in Ethiopia, but expansion of the plan would benefit Italy.

The British object to others' calling Laval the "mediator" of the conversations, as it implies an Italian-British quarrel that requires a referee, which, said the spokesman, is "nonsense."

Italian Reported Hurt in Fight With Ethiopian Policeman.
By the Associated Press.
Djibouti, French Somaliland, Aug. 15.—Renato Mecenat, secretary in the Italian consulate at Aden, is reported to have been seriously injured in a fight at Dire-dawa, Ethiopia, with an Ethiopian policeman who was also seriously hurt.

The trouble, the origin of which was not immediately reported, is said to have arisen shortly before the departure of a train on which Mecenat was traveling to Addis Ababa.

COMPROMISE BEING DRAFTED ON HOLDING COMPANY BILL

Senators Try to Get Agreement With House on "Death Sentence."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—A compromise on the "death sentence" in the public utility holding company regulatory bill was being drafted today by Senate conferees in a last-minute effort to get an agreement with House members this session. The compromise was reported to be ready for submission at a meeting tomorrow.

A meeting scheduled for today was called off in order, Chairman Wheeler of the conferees said, to "give members time to think the situation over."

The compromise was reported to call for the Senate to give way on two major points. One would permit two holding companies to exist in each integrated utility system, instead of one permitted in the Senate bill. The other would eliminate the seven-year deadline for dissolution of holding companies and permit them to break up "in a reasonable time."

BILL FOR 40-HOUR WEEK FOR POSTAL WORKERS SIGNED

Measure, Effective Oct. 1, Expected to Give 10,000 Substitutes Permanent Jobs.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—President Roosevelt today signed the bill providing a 40-hour week for postal employees.

Officials expect it to create about 10,000 permanent jobs for men now on the postal "substitute" list.

Mail carriers, clerks, railway mail workers and others in the service will be put on the five-day week, working eight hours a day, under the new law.

Although about 4500 substitutes have been given permanent positions in the postal service during the last 18 months, there are still nearly 20,000 substitutes in the service.

Regular postal employees have been working 44 hours a week, with time off for all overtime. Most clerks and carriers work five days a week and a half day on Saturday.

The 40-hour week will become effective Oct. 1.

PEA PICKERS' STRIKE ENDED

Idaho Workers Go Back to Fields When Troops Arrive.

By the Associated Press.
DRIGGS, Idaho, Aug. 15.—Military control enforced in Teton County by 150 Idaho National Guardsmen ordered here early today by Gov. C. Ben Ross, ended a strike of pea pickers that threatened the county's $250,000 crop.

With the Governor's declaration that "we are going to see to it that these farmers are permitted to harvest their crops without interruption," most of the pickers returned to work. Wage increases demanded by strike leaders were not granted, said Glen Hubbell, head of one of the three contracting pea companies here. Pickers receive 70 cents a hundred pounds. They demanded $1. Agitators, blamed by officers of the pea companies for the strike, were said to have left the county.

NEW TAXES ON NET INCOMES DOWN TO $3000 DEFEATED

Senate Rejects La Follette Amendment, 62 to 19—Vote Against Silver Trading Levy of 50 Percent.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The Senate rejected today the La Follette amendment to the administration tax bill, which sought to increase surtaxes on all net incomes exceeding $3000 to raise about $175,000,000 in new revenue. The vote was 62 to 19.

The Senate also added an amendment to the tax bill to repeal sections of the silver purchase act providing for the 50 per cent tax on trading profits, authorizing nationalization of the white metal and requiring licenses for imports and exports.

The proposal was offered by Senator McCarran (Dem.), Nevada. The surtaxes proposed by La Follette ranged from 4 per cent on the first $1000 of net income over $3000 to 75 per cent on that portion over $5,000,000.

The pending bill increases surtaxes only on incomes over $10,000, with a range of rates from 60 to 75 per cent, the maximum applying to those exceeding $10,000,000. The present law runs from 4 per cent on the first $2000 over $4000 to 59 per cent on all over $1,000,000. The House bill increases surtax rates on incomes exceeding $50,000, the taxes ranging from 31 to 75 per cent.

Vote on Amendment.

The roll call on the La Follette proposal follows:

For the amendment: Republicans (9): Austin, Frazier, Gibson, Hale, Norbeck, Nye, Steiwer, Vandenberg, White.

Democrats (8): Black, Buckley, Clark, Coughlin, Gerry, Maloney, Russell, Thomas (Ok.).

Progressive (1): La Follette.

Farmer-Labor (1): Shipstead.

Grand total: 19.

Against the amendment: Republicans (10): Barbour, Borah, Capper, Carey, Davis, Johnson, McNary, Norris, Schall, Townsend.

Democrats (52): Adams, Ashurst, Bachman, Bailey, Bankhead, Barkley, Bilbo, Bone, Brown, Bulow, Burke, Byrnes, Caraway, Chavez, Connally, Copeland, Dieterich, Fletcher, George, Glass, Guffey, Harrison, Hatch, Hayden, King, Lewis, Logan, Long, McCarran, McGill, McKellar, Minton, Moore, Murphy, Murray, Neely, O'Mahoney, Overton, Pittman, Radcliffe, Reynolds, Robinson, Schwellenbach, Sheppard, Smith, Thomas (Utah), Trammell, Truman, Tydings, Van Nuys, Wagner, Walsh. Grand total against 62.

La Follette then offered another surtax schedule starting increased taxes on net incomes over $8000. The new schedule was estimated to raise an additional $96,000,000. This was rejected, 56 to 22.

Amendments Approved.
The Senate adopted the Finance Committee surtaxes on individual net income starting higher levies only on those above $1,000,000. The vote was 49 to 28.

La Follette withdrew an amendment to lower income tax exemptions because he recognized it would not pass. The Senate then gave tentative approval to all Finance Committee amendments to the House bill, including the substitution of higher estate taxes for an inheritance tax.

Chairman Harrison of the Finance Committee, said a quick conference agreement between the Senate and House was expected, permitting adjournment of Congress next week.

With the tax bill out of the way, it was said, adjournment would be hastened regardless of other administration bills awaiting final action. Such action would leave the Guffey bituminous coal stabilization bill, the food and drug regulation measure and a half dozen others until next session.

Says Hopson Will Be Senate Witness

appeared before the committee twice and stands ready to appear whenever we want to produce him. The whole purpose of the Rules Committee from the outset has been, not to examine Hopson, but to prevent the Senate Committee from examining him."

It is a rule of Congress, scrupulously observed and rigorously enforced, that one branch shall do or say nothing to reflect on the other. That fact alone would be enough to characterize Black's declaration in the Senate as an unusual performance. That it was heard in dead silence, without the semblance of an objection from any quarter, made it even more remarkable.

"I do not believe," Black said, "that it would be advisable to proceed with Mr. Hill until Hopson is found and brought before the Senate. However, I wish to make a brief statement to the Senate about the circumstances in this matter."

Rearrangement Charged.

"Evidence shows that for more than a month Hopson has been dodging, running and hiding from our committee. He has admitted under oath that he wished to escape testifying before the Senate Committee, but was willing to testify before the House Committee. Evidence shows that he came to Washington by rearrangement, accompanied by an armed guard provided by the chairman of the House Rules Committee."

"When an attempt was made Tuesday to serve him with a subpoena, he escaped on the run, guarded by employees of the House committee and Washington policemen detailed to him by the chairman of the House Committee."

"Our committee has not aided, nor would it aid, any witness in dodging or evading the House committee. On the contrary, we stand ready to co-operate and assist the House committee in any way we are able. The rule of comity requires that each co-ordinate branch of Congress do nothing to obstruct the processes of the other, but, on the contrary, that it aid and promote them. Certainly, no committee of either branch has a right to prevent a witness from appearing before a committee of the other."

"It was never intended that either body become a citadel of refuge for a dodging, hiding, running fugitive utility official. I recommend to the other house that it recognize and observe the rule of comity."

Whether Hopson's belated decision to testify before the Senate Committee—reached under some thing resembling duress—will save him from contempt proceedings by the Senate, is extremely doubtful. Already incensed over his prolonged flight from its process servers, the Senate was further angered by his tactics in conjunction with O'Connor. It will be surprising if he does not taste the Senate's wrath. The contempt procedure against him thus far has followed precisely the precedents set in the case of former Secretary of Commerce William P. McCracken, who served 30 days in jail after the Supreme Court had unanimously upheld his conviction.

It was disclosed last night that Hopson, who kept the Senate Committee waiting four and a half hours yesterday before making his refusal definite, acted finally on the advice of Representative O'Connor.

Until the Senate brought matters to a head by citing Hopson and Hill, O'Connor had sought to give the impression that he had no desire to prevent Hopson from testifying before the Senate Committee. Indeed he said so at yesterday's session of the committee, but after the Senate had voted unanimously to cite the magnate and his attorney, O'Connor admitted he had told Hopson to disregard the Senate subpoena which was served on him shortly before noon yesterday. "We Won't Give Him to You."

"He is in our custody, and we won't give him to you under any consideration," O'Connor told Jurney, when Jurney sought to serve the citation on Hopson. Earlier he had served Hill in the cocktail lounge of a fashionable hotel.

Earlier, both Speaker Byrnes and Representative Snell, the Republican leader, had promised support for the technical move to arrest Hopson and hold him for the House committee so the Senate could not reach him.

Senatorial attempt to seize Hopson while he was under House subpoena was termed unjustified and "an effort to the House" by Byrnes.

Senator Black's Attitude.

When Black was apprised of the attitude of House leaders he said: "I do not intend to allow this grave matter to degenerate into a comic opera battle between the House and the Senate. If the House is willing to aid and abet a recalcitrant and fugitive witness in his efforts to evade a Senate subpoena, the House can take the responsibility. Eventually we will get Mr. Hopson, providing he remains in the country, and the greater the delay, the more aggravated the contempt."

Comic Opera Incident.

Black's determination to prevent the situation from "degenerating into a comic opera" performance arose from a number of incidents, one of which occurred last night at the Shoreham Hotel.

Hopson and Sergeant-at-Arms Jurney were built on the same general lines. Last night one of Jurney's deputies was seeking Hopson at the Shoreham, when an informer excitedly told him that Hopson was in the swimming pool. The deputy raced down to the pool, but no Hopson. Returning, he said to the informer, indignantly: "What are you trying to do—make a mug out of me?"

"No," argued the informer, "I tell you he was there. In fact, you'd go Hopson now." A bulky figure was barging down the end of a distant corridor. The deputy caught him after a swift dash. It was Jurney.

In Robinson's Room.

Jurney himself had experienced a curious surprise in the hotel earlier. He went to the suite of B. B. Robinson, Chicago lobbyist who was employed by Associated Gas & Electric to fight the Wheeler-Rayburn bill in the House. Robinson came to the door and told Jurney he hadn't seen Hopson for a week. Jurney departed, but failed to take the first elevator.

Presently Robinson's door opened, and a gay party emerged, which included Marvin McIntyre, secretary to President Roosevelt; L. B. Robert, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and Amon Carter, Fort Worth, Tex., newspaper publisher and influential Democratic politician.

O'Connor is a typical Tammany politician. He attended Harvard law school, but apparently it didn't "take." He returned to his native East Side, boarded the political escalator, and has been riding ever since. He served the term in the New York State Assembly, and is serving his sixth term in the House. The seniority rule made him chairman of the powerful Rules Committee.

"Advised by Others."

Hill wandered disconsolately around the corridors of the Capitol this morning, in readiness to present himself at the bar of the Senate when it convened at noon. Encountering the Post-Dispatch correspondent, he disclosed that while the Senate Committee sat twiddling its thumbs for hours yesterday afternoon, waiting for Hopson to appear, the utility magnate was closeted in the House office building with William Collins, counsel for the House Rules Committee.

"They wouldn't even allow me to talk to my client," Hill declared plaintively. "I wanted to advise him to appear before the Senate Committee. I believe it was very unwise for him to ignore the subpoena, but he was being advised by others."

"Will you present yourself at the bar of the Senate?" he was asked. "Certainly," was the reply—"I have no House Committee to protect me."

Associated Gas in Advertisements Again Attacks Bill.

In newspaper advertisements the Associated Gas and Electric System, whose president, Howard C. Hopson, has been cited by the Senate for contempt, again today attacked the Wheeler-Rayburn bill.

The bill in either the form passed by the Senate or the House means more Government in business, the statement said.

Referring to testimony before the Senate committee that an employee of the company sent hundreds of telegrams of protest to Senators and Congressmen signed with names taken at random from a city directory, the advertisement said: "Nation-wide publicity engineered through a Congressional investigation Committee attempted to discredit generally all telegrams sent by constituents to their Senators and Representatives protesting against Federal regulation of the public utility industry as provided by the Wheeler-Rayburn bill."

"In fairness to the people who registered their protests it should be emphasized that in a report by Western Union to the Federal Communications Commission, it was definitely stated that the example of the publicized community was 'the first and only one of its kind' from which doubtful telegrams were sent. An investigation by the Associated System further limits the responsibility to one minor employee, who through over-zealousness participated in the sending of a few unauthorized telegrams which totaled less than two-tenths of 1 per cent of the total messages sent."

The statement appealed to customers and investors of the company to again make their positions on the Wheeler-Rayburn bill known to their Senators and Representatives.

Father, 80, Slashes Son.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 15.—Angered because his suit to compel his son to support him was dismissed by Probate Judge Thomas C. Murphy, John S. Schram, 80 years old, slashed his son several times with a knife in the corridor of the county building today. The son, Robert G. Schram, 49, was rescued by spectators. "I got so mad I didn't know what I was doing," Schram told police. "But I don't care, I'd rather go to prison than to the poorhouse, anyway."

Caddy, 14, Killed by Golf Ball.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—A driven golf ball which hit him on the temple caused the death today of Anthony Reppa, 14 years old, a caddy. He was injured Monday. The ball that hit him was driven by Alex Kogut, fellow caddy with whom he was playing.

CHICAGO JUDGE FREED OF CHARGES BY HOUSE

Accepts Committee Report Exonerating S. P. Alschuler and Drops Inquiry.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Judge Samuel Alschuler of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, Chicago, was exonerated of charges of judicial irregularity in a report to Speaker Byrnes today by Chairman Sumners of the House Judiciary Committee.

Sumners said the report set forth there was no foundation to charges by Representative Dirksen (Rep.), Illinois, that Alschuler had been improperly involved in reversing an earlier decision in the case of Thomas Marshall of the Marshall Electric Co., Elkhart, Ind., against the Pullman company. Dirksen asked for impeachment.

The resolution authorizing investigation into Alschuler's judicial conduct was tabled by unanimous consent of the House.

After stating Alschuler had nothing to do with writing the opinion which Dirksen complained about, the report said:

"No mitigating facts or circumstances have been discovered by this committee touching the conduct of the said Everett M. Dirksen in basing upon a mis-statement of facts a false accusation of personal and official dishonesty against the said Samuel Alschuler."

"The committee feels it to be its duty to report that its investigation has disclosed that Judge Alschuler, who is now 75 years of age, and who has long been a member of said court, is recognized as an eminent and honorable jurist of this country, and enjoys the respect, confidence and affection of the people."

"The said Everett M. Dirksen appears to have been motivated, in part at least, in preferring said impeachment charges, by the desire and purpose to aid and in the belief that he might thereby aid, the cause of a person who had been a party in interest in a suit and in which matter the said Dirksen estimated there was some $25,000,000 involved."

The committee said the opinion of which Dirksen complained was written by Judge Sparks, another member of the court.

WIFE WHO KILLED RIVAL HAD AGREED TO LEAVE HUSBAND

Three Lived in Same House On Utopia Parkway in New York Suburb for Seven Years.

'HE WANTED ME
TO GET A DIVORCE'

Mrs. Etta Reisman, Charged With Homicide, Has to Be Carried Into Court for Arraignment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
BEECHURST, N. Y., Aug. 15.—
The unusual domestic arrangement
under which a wealthy businessman, his wife and his blond sweetheart had lived in the same house for seven years, was shattered yesterday when the wife, Mrs. Etta Reisman, 35 years old, shot and killed the other woman, Virginia Seigh, 23, on the lawn of the family home on Utopia Parkway.

"I killed her and I'm glad," said
Mrs. Reisman, as she was shuttled from jail cell to police lineup to magistrate's court and back to jail, charged with homicide. Mrs. Reisman's stepdaughter, Annette, who wrestled with her for the revolver, and was shot in the finger, is to be a material witness.

The husband, Arthur R. Reisman, 42, stood in court surrounded by his wife's three brothers, all lawyers—Benjamin, Reuben and Samuel Schlimer—and, prodded by them, replied to questioning: "Sure, I'm standing by my wife—doesn't it look like it?"

How Trouble Began.
The rift began Tuesday afternoon when Reisman, his wife and the young woman met in the Etta Ann Beauty Shop in Flushing, one of nine shops owned by Reisman.

The shop, where Miss Seigh worked as secretary and manager, Reisman told his wife that he wanted a divorce, so he could marry his secretary.

Tears and recriminations followed,
and finally all three went to the large brick shore-front home, with its private swimming pool and amateur radio station, where they had,
until now, lived in an outward appearance of tranquil family life.

Annette, the 23-year-old stepdaughter of Mrs. Reisman, who had made Miss Seigh her closest friend, tried to calm her parents. As she packed her clothes, Mrs. Reisman shouted accusations at her husband and his secretary.

Reisman, after attempting to drown his troubles in drink, took refuge in the family automobile and refused to emerge. Some time after midnight his daughter, Annette, and Miss Seigh went out to the car to talk with him.

From an upstairs window Mrs.
Reisman heard him say:
"I love Virginia and Virginia loves me."

She took her husband's .38 caliber revolver from its holster, loaded it with five shells, and appeared on the lawn. Annette attempted to seize the weapon from her stepmother and was shot in the little finger. Then the wife fired a bullet through Miss Seigh's heart and emptied the revolver with three shots at the walls of the garage.

As Miss Seigh collapsed on the grass, Reisman threw his arms
about her and cried to his wife:
"You've killed her! You've killed my dearest!"

Mrs. Reisman went into the house and telephoned Dr. C. J.
Cohen, who had been summoned
earlier in the evening, telling him:
"I've killed Virginia."

When the doctor arrived Reisman was sobbing over the body of the young woman, while his daughter and his two sons, Arthur, 17,
and Elias, 9, tried to calm him.
Mrs. Reisman was crying, too.
"Arthur loved her," she said. "He wanted me to get a divorce. Well, he won't get him now."

The stepdaughter, who managed another of her father's beauty shops, called police and Mrs. Reisman was taken first to Bayside Police Station, then to the Manhattan police lineup, then to Flushing Magistrate's Court and finally to the Women's Detention Prison in New York to await further hearing, Aug. 21.

The accused woman had to be carried into court, and was able to stand before Magistrate Frank Giorgio only after restoratives had been administered. Her brother, Benjamin, pleaded not guilty in her behalf, and got a week's postponement of the case.

Married 12 Years.
The Reismans were married 12 years ago, after the death of Reisman's first wife, Mrs. Reisman, a bookkeeper, gave her husband $500 from her own savings to open his first beauty shop, in Flushing.

Seven years ago Virginia Seigh, then 16, went to live with them as Reisman's secretary. Her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Seigh of Brooklyn, were in full agreement,
and so, it was said, was Mrs. Reisman.

Difficulties developed early this year, when Mrs. Reisman asked her husband to give up his secretary, and he refused.

Mrs. Reisman told police: "My husband called me to the beauty shop yesterday, where I met my brother, an attorney. My husband told me he had prepared papers in a separation action."

"At his request I agreed to leave our home in Beechurst, with our

NEW YORK POLICE JAIL 344 VAGRANTS IN PARK CLEANUP

Many Get Two Days in Lieu of Fines; Campaign to Stop Attacks, Robberies.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Police made their 750th arrest today in a roundup of vagrants and criminals who frequent the city's parks.

Five hundred policemen, transferred from other posts, began the roundup at sunset and worked all night. Magistrate Earl A. Smith, sitting in night court, sentenced 344 of the prisoners to two days
each in jail, in lieu of $5 fines.

The roundup was ordered by Police Commissioner Valentine in response to a demand from Mayor LaGuardia. One killing and many recent assaults and robberies in the parks aroused the Mayor.

More than 200 officers were sent into Central Park, where normally 17 policemen attempt to patrol 340
acres between midnight and 8 a. m.
It was there that 72-year-old John Hayes was attacked by a foot-pad while on his way home early yesterday and left unconscious.

SENATE COMMITTEE APPROVES
NEW RAILWAY PENSION BILL

Companion Measure, Carrying Tax on Companies and Employees to Provide Retirement in House.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The Wagner-Crosser railway pension bill, intended to replace the act invalidated by the Supreme Court, was approved today by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. A companion measure, carrying a tax on railroads and employees to finance the pension, has been introduced in the House.

Earlier, a threat to oppose adjustment until action is taken on the Frazier-Lemke farm refinancing bill, and the pension bill was held out to administration leaders by the so-called House farm bloc.

At a meeting attended by 15 or 20 supporters of the two measures,
it was agreed to form a coalition to fight "strangulation by the leadership of the House" of these two measures.

The statement, issued from the office of Representative Lemke (Rep.) North Dakota, said "considerable feeling" existed at the meeting because a number of members had been "induced" to withdraw their names from a petition calling for a vote on the Frazier-Lemke bill.

The latter measure proposes to relieve the farm debt burden through issuance of $3,000,000,000 in new currency.

Mrs. Edward Butler Gets Larceny Warrant When Furniture Is Found Elsewhere.

The domestic difficulties of Edward Butler, 28-year-old clothing worker, who was released on bond
Tuesday after six days in St. Louis County Jail on a common assault charge made by his wife, took a new turn last night when the Butler home, a three-room frame house on Tesson Ferry road south of Alton, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin.

When Butler returned home from jail Tuesday, he found his wife gone, as well as all the furniture in the house. Investigation disclosed that she was in De Soto to attend a funeral. The furniture was found later by Deputy Sheriffs in a house in the 4700 block of Page boulevard.

Mrs. Butler, on her return, swore out a grand larceny warrant against one of Butler's relatives, charging her with removing the furniture.

STREET DEPARTMENT ORDINANCE PASSED

Aldermen Amend Bill to Eliminate Salary Increases for Three Employees.

The Board of Aldermen today unanimously passed the Streets and Sewers Department reorganization bill authorizing the retention of 59 employees of that department, whose salaries would otherwise have ended today.

The bill, which had been involved in the dispute between Mayor Dickmann, who advocated passage, and hostile Aldermen and Committeemen, was amended to eliminate salary increases in three of the better paying positions.

Alderman Peterson, Twenty-third Ward, in calling for the amendment, stated that the budget appropriation for the Streets and Sewers Department was insufficient to meet salaries of employees in the lower brackets in full and,
therefore, it would be an injustice
to increase the salaries of employees.
The three employees and the amount of increase proposed for each by Director McDewitt were: A. R. Kieffer, secretary to McDewitt, from $210
to $225 a month; J. A. Feuchter, efficiency engineer, $230 to $250;
and J. L. Ryan, auditor, $175 to $200.

The reorganization bill was introduced in the Board of Aldermen early this year and subsequently was reintroduced. Its purpose was to give permanent authority for the employment of the 59 workers, who had been carried on the payroll for two years under emergency resolutions. The Controller's office had warned Director McDewitt that the salaries of the employees involved would stop today, unless the ordinance was passed.

At the conclusion of its meeting
the Board of Aldermen adjourned to Sept. 9.

Estimate Board Approves Recorder's Request for More Clerks.

A bill authorizing employment by Recorder of Deeds English of seven additional clerks, at an annual outlay of $9500, was approved today
by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The Recorder's request for the appropriation had been rejected by the board early this summer, but English obtained a ruling from Attorney-General Mc-Kittick holding that the Recorder, as a State officer, was entitled to make additional appointments as he desired.

English, chairman of the Democratic City Committee, heads a faction opposed to Mayor Dickmann and is expected to appoint former city employees who were let out by the Mayor for "disloyalty" to the administration. Appointments will be delayed several weeks, however, due to the adjournment of the Board of Aldermen, which must approve the bill, until Sept. 9.

$17,000,000 in Corn-Hog Payments.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The Farm Administration announces $17,298,066 has been paid on 1935 corn-hog contracts. More than one-fourth, $4,760,269, went to Iowa farmers. The payments represent about one-fifth of the $85,000,000
that will go to farmers as first payments under this year's program.
Missouri's share is $2,026,920.

GIRL, FRACTURES HER SPINE
IN 15-FT. FALL FROM PORCH

Juanita Boyer, 15, Reprimanded
by Mother, Says She Didn't Intend to Jump.

Juanita Boyer, 15 years old, was in City Hospital today with a fractured spine suffered yesterday afternoon when she jumped or fell 15 feet from the third floor of her home, 902 LaSalle street, to the roof of an adjoining building.

According to the report to police,
the girl and her 13-year-old sister, Agnes, quarreled over which one
was to put away a toy wagon.
When the sisters slapped each other, their mother, Mrs. W. T.
Boyer, reprimanded both and sent Agnes on an errand. Juanita went to the third floor and stepped out on a small porch with a low railing.

"All I remember is that I was falling," she related later. She asserted that she had no intention of jumping.

BOY, 6, WHO INJURED KNEE
IN FALL, DIES OF TETANUS

Ralph Tucker Succumbs in City Hospital as Result of Accident Aug. 6.

Ralph, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Tucker, 2228 Benton street, died at City Hospital today of tetanus, resulting from an abrasion of the left knee suffered Aug. 6 when he fell on a gravel walk on the playground at St. Louis Park.

Shortly after the accident the boy was taken to the hospital, where it was thought anti-tetanus treatment was not necessary. Friday he returned to the hospital and received treatment in the clinic. Monday morning he became ill with lockjaw
and was returned to the hospital, where anti-tetanus serum was administered.

His father, an unemployed factory worker, said the family had been on relief for three years. Besides his parents, four brothers and a sister survive.

Twenty-six persons were fined for ranging from $5 to $25. No speeding cases were on the docket in Judge Vest's court.

TWO WOMEN SHOT WHEN RIDING IN AUTO

Gun Fired Through Window
at Party Returning from Swimming.

Eight St. Louisans were motoring along Highway 21 in Jefferson County last night after a swimming party in the Big River at Morse Mill, when someone fired a shotgun through an open window of the car, wounding two of the occupants, both women.

Mrs. Mary Rollings, 1212A Morrison avenue, who was taken to City Hospital, had the shotgun pellets in the back of the head and eight in the right arm. Mrs. Robert Walker was treated at the hospital for several wounds in the right leg and taken to her home at the same address.

Mrs. Rollings said they were proceeding at about 35 miles an hour, when the shotgun was fired. Walker, she said, stopped the car and walked back toward three men standing in the road. One of them said, "You've been stealing our corn
—stop or we'll fire," she related.

She said Walker ignored the command and was struck on the head
by one of the men with a revolver.
They had taken no corn, she said.
With them were the Walkers' two children and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Estes, 1212 Morrison, and their 2-year-old son.

Only Survivor of 21 Birds Sent by Plane

20 OF 21 BIRDS SENT TO ZOO DIE DURING TRIP BY PLANE

One Survivor Revived Here After 18-Hour Trip From Los Angeles.

There was only one hummingbird left today at the St. Louis Zoo out of a shipment of 21 sent here yesterday in two specially constructed cages aboard an airplane from Los Angeles. The others all died during the 18-hour trip.

The survivor, a black-throat not more than two inches long, was exhausted on arrival at the Zoo's Bird House, but Henry M. Kennon, ornithologist in charge, revived it
by warming it in front of an electric heater and feeding it a specially prepared sweet syrup out of a glass tube. The bird was hungry and in a few minutes ate more than an ounce of food.

Kennon thinks the bird will live and be added to the Zoo's collection of tropical birds, which is the finest in any zoo. He thinks the other birds died because of lack of food. They were given food at Fort Worth but it was placed in a flat dish, to which they were not accustomed, and he thinks that they ate very little.

Tomorrow a shipment of 10 hummingbirds and one sugar bird, eight in Central America, will be brought here by Pete French, a friend of Zoo Director Vierheller.
Kennon looks for the shipment to arrive in better shape because French will be able to watch and feed the birds.

ITALIAN PLANE CRASH INQUIRY

Report Says Controls Could Not Have Been Tamed With.

ROME, Aug. 15.—An official report today on the investigation of the airplane crash in Egypt, Aug.
7, in which seven Italians, including Luigi Rizza, Minister of Public Works, were killed, said the military craft was carefully guarded at the airport in Cairo during the night preceding its departure for Eritrea, and the controls could not have been tampered with, because the plane had been sealed during the night.

Gen. Aldo Pellegrini, who holds an aviation medal from the United States, wrote the report.

SALVAGE SHIP ORPHIR DRAGS FOR WRECKAGE

Stream Anchor Used After Two New Projections Are Found on Ocean Floor.

By GILBERT McALLISTER.
(Copyright, 1935.)

ABOARD SALVAGE SHIP OR-PHIR, Aug. 15.—The Orphir's echo sounder recorded two new projections on the ocean floor yesterday morning. The crew dropped a fifth buoy, then lowered the stream anchor for dragging, in an effort to hook one of the protuberances and possibly detach a tell-tale bit of wreckage.

(The stream anchor is a small auxiliary anchor usually used for temporarily holding a ship in a stream or river.)

For hours the Orphir searched
the vicinity of the newly placed buoy keeping well clear of it in order that the mooring chain might not be caught by the propellers. To crucify too near the buoy would result in a shearing of the propeller blades.

After carefully dragging the new spot for two hours, Capt. Henry Russell became convinced that the protuberances, whatever they were,
could not be the Lusitania. He will continue to investigate exhaustively
the area which has been designated as the resting place of the Lusitania.

William Stephens, echo sounder expert, remains unchanged in his belief that "there will be no shadow of doubt when we finally do come over the Lusitania wreckage."

Marks on the chart, he says, will be so well defined that it will be impossible to be misled.

The Orphir has now completed more than 1000 miles in criss-crossing the area 12 miles square. As the area is charted, there is not the slightest diminution of optimism that the torpedoed liner shortly will be found.

parently self-inflicted bullet wound.
He died in a Carlinville hospital four hours after he was found in the back of the Postoffice, holding a Government pistol in his hand.

FIVE SHOTS FIRED
IN WOMEN'S QUARREL

One Jumps Out of Window as Police Arrive at Apartment.

Loud talking and sounds of a struggle in an apartment at 712 Belt avenue, occupied by two women, sent police there at 3:30 a. m. today just as Lucille Doyle, clad in pajamas, scrambled out a back window to the accompaniment of two revolver shots.

Inside the first floor apartment police found Mrs. Hattie Kennedy, smoking revolver in hand. Two other women, who had been sleeping, were just getting out of bed. Mrs. Kennedy, police said, admitted that she had fired five shots at Miss Doyle. They had quarreled, she said, and Miss Doyle taunted her with the statement that she did not have the nerve to shoot.

Miss Doyle was treated at City Hospital for a sprained ankle suffered in jumping out the window. Mrs. Kennedy was treated there for bruises suffered in the scuffle before police arrived. Later, at the Page Boulevard Police Station, where they were held on peace disturbance charges, they could not agree on what the quarrel was about.

Miss Doyle, who is 24 years old, said she was a model. So did the other two women, against whom no charges were placed.

BERGDOLL MAKES NEW OFFER TO SURRENDER

Draft Dodger, in Germany, Stipulates Case be Taken From Army Authorities.

By the Associated Press.
WEINBERG, Germany, Aug. 15.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, millionaire American draft dodger, made a new offer of surrender today to the United States Government in which he stipulated that "first the case be taken out of the hands of the military authorities and, secondly, my family be permitted to reside permanently in the United States."

Anxiety over the education of his German-born children prompted the offer, Bergdoll said.

Bergdoll wrote the following statement:

"Some time ago my wife (now in America) received a very sympathetic letter from the White House which stated she should first carry her pardon pleas to the War Department and the Department of Justice and then if both refuse her pleas, she should make her final plea to the President as he is the last resort in such matters."

"Decision Up to President."
"I have just received a letter from my wife which stated that both the War and Justice Departments have refused clemency. It is now up to President Roosevelt to make a final decision in the matter. In this connection I hereby make this new offer."

"I will surrender to the Federal authorities in Philadelphia and plead guilty to draft evasion (which involves a penalty of one year in prison and $10,000 fine) providing: First, that the court-martial findings be voided in my case and taken out of the hands of the military department; secondly, that my family be permitted to reside permanently in the United States."

"The chief reason why I make this offer is because of the fact that I would like to send my children to school in September. Their education has been sadly neglected to date because I had always felt that Roosevelt would pardon me and I could send them to school in America."

"Something Must Be Done."
"But the years have passed by so quickly things have reached a stage where something must be done real soon."

"Therefore I make the above offer and would greatly appreciate your informing me by wire whether it is accepted or not. I will leave on the first boat sailing for America."

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, member of a Philadelphia brewing family, failed to report when his draft number was called on August, 1917. He dodged arrest for more than two years, being captured by Federal authorities Jan. 7, 1920. On March 17, 1920, he was sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

He received permission to visit his mother in Philadelphia on May 21 and escaped while being taken there. He fled to Germany, where he has since lived. An attempt was made to kidnap him in Germany by Americans. One of the would-be abductors was seized and imprisoned.

Bergdoll has made various attempts to obtain clemency. His wife and four small children arrived in New York last May 2. On her arrival Mrs. Bergdoll said her husband was eager to return and claim a fortune of $800,000 seized by the Government when he fled.

Cummings Says Case Won't Even Be Discussed Until Surrender.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—An offer by Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft dodger, to return to the United States as a civil prisoner if military court-martial charges against him were dropped was given a cold reception today by Attorney-General Cummings.

"We decline even to discuss the case until Bergdoll surrenders to us," he said.

Federal indictments charging draft dodging will be pressed if the deserter, now in Germany, returns to the United States. Cummings added.

The army Judge Advocate General is the only official who could "dicker" with Bergdoll in discussing

MENTAL HEARING
FOR POLITTE ELVINS

Son Asks Court to Declare Ex-Congressman Incompetent to Manage Affairs.

A petition asking that Former Congressman Politte Elvins of Ladue Village be declared incapable of managing his own affairs was filed in Probate Court at Clayton yesterday by his son, Kells Elvins, who valued his father's property at $100,000. A hearing was set for Aug. 30 by Probate Judge Hughes.

Mrs. Florence Kells Elvins filed a divorce suit against the former Congressman June 18, alleging general indignities and asserting he had "threatened her with violence." Her petition also asked that the Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co. be restrained from permitting Elvins to remove an estimated $100,000 in stocks and bonds, and places the value of his property at $150,000. The temporary restraining order was dissolved last week.

MRS. STELLA TALBOT WEDS FELLOW LODGER

Former Movie Actress Under Sentence of 5 Years for Killing Restaurant Man.

Stella Riddell Talbot, former motion picture actress under sentence of five years in prison for manslaughter in the killing of Albert Frankenstein last Christmas, was married Tuesday night to Charles Campbell, her fellow lodger in a rooming house at 4114 Delmar boulevard.

Mrs. Talbot, who gave her age as 35, said she and Campbell had known each other for a year and decided, after dinner Tuesday, to marry. They drove to the home of Justice of the Peace Mullberger in East St. Louis.

"He was at a picnic playing lotto," Mrs. Talbot said today, "but we found him there and drove back to his office with him." Campbell, a painter and decorator, about 45 years old, spoke up then with the remark that he had loved Mrs. Talbot a "long time." Later he said he first realized he was in love with her during her trial last April, although he attended none of its sessions.

"I want to protect her," Campbell added. "The past is the past. We have the future to look forward to now. We're going to start life all over again."

Mrs. Talbot is at liberty on bond, awaiting a new trial. Frankenstein, with whom Mrs. Talbot lived in quarters behind his tavern on Easton avenue, was shot in a struggle with her after a prolonged period of drinking. As Stella Day in 1919, Mrs. Talbot was featured in the picture, "The Price of Innocence."

HELD IN KILLING

JOHN F. WILLIAMSON, FORMER convict who is held at Ste. Genevieve, Mo., for the inquest into the death of George Williams, 64-year-old former St. Louisan, whose body, a shotgun wound in the back of the head, was found last Sunday in a woods five miles northwest of Ste. Williamson was released last December from Chester (Ill.) penitentiary after serving 22 years of a life sentence for murder.

NOTE FROM WOMAN FOUND IN POCKET OF MAN KILLED

"You Are Ugliest Creature Alive," Says Missive Addressed to Chicago Officer.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Detectives today investigated the possibility a woman may have been involved in the fatal shooting of Kenneth A. Morrison, Assistant Comptroller of the Chicago Park District.

It was learned a note, apparently written by a woman, was found in the dead man's pockets. It said: "You are the ugliest creature God ever made. I do believe."

The missive had been signed, but the signature, the police said, had been torn off. Morrison, a member of a prominent Winnetka family, was found early yesterday, sitting upright in the back of his automobile, with three bullet wounds in his body. A cigarette, burned almost to his lips, was in his mouth. Investigators think it may have been placed there by the killers to give passersby the impression he was alive. Two men were seen fleeing from the scene.

SALE OF NARCOTICS CHARGED AGAINST THREE AFTER ARREST

William Kuchta Was Peddling From Auto, Says Federal Agent.

Warrants charging three men with the sale of narcotics in violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic law were issued today following the arrest of the men by police and Federal narcotic agents yesterday. The men, all of whom were lodged in jail in default of $5000 bond, are: William Kuchta, 20 years old, 1428 Hadley street; Robert Hastings, 27, 3824 Kennerly avenue, and Robert Williams, Negro, 26, 2222 Lucas avenue.

Kuchta was arrested when selling narcotics from an automobile in the West End, according to John F. Tully, head of the Federal narcotic bureau here, who said Kuchta had made eight sales to informers while narcotic agents watched. His automobile was confiscated. According to Tully, he was recently paroled from the Boonville Reformatory, where he was serving a sentence for burglary.

U.S. 'STILL BUYING' SILVER IN EFFORT TO BOLSTER PRICE

More Than 25,500,000 Ounces Purchased in Day But World Quotation Continues to Drop.

THOMAS CONFERS WITH MORGENTHAU

Says Government Must Support Market Adequately or 'Be Left Holding a Lot' of Metal.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said today that the Government was "still buying" silver.

His statement to reporters followed announcement last night that more than 25,500,000 ounces of silver were purchased yesterday in an effort to stem declining prices. Despite heavy buying by the Treasury, the world price continued to decline today, although at a slower pace than yesterday.

Senator Thomas (Dem.), Oklahoma, said after a conference with Morgenthau that "unless the Government buys sufficient silver in a way that will make a silver dollar actually worth a dollar the program might as well be abandoned."

"Otherwise the Government will be left holding a lot of silver and the only ones who will profit will be the foreign speculators," he said.

Thomas intimated he had received no sympathy for his views that an open market for silver should be re-established in this country and that the tax on speculative profits should be dropped.

Thomas remained silent about his proposal for a congressional investigation of the administration's handling of the Silver Purchase Act, which was intended to make silver one-fourth of the nation's monetary stock.

"We bought more silver today than the total domestic production last year," Morgenthau told reporters last night. The 1934 domestic output, he added, was estimated at 25,500,000 ounces.

Morgenthau would not give exact figures on the amount bought yesterday in the world market—or as to the extent of aggregate purchases under the Silver Act.

It was estimated, however, that total acquisitions from all sources exceeded 500,000,000 ounces and that the Treasury's silver supply stood well over a billion ounces.

State Fair Beauty Contest Winners

MISS EDNA SMITH (right), junior at Central College, Fayette, who was chosen "Miss Missouri" at the beauty pageant at Sedalia, and MISS ELEANOR KINKAID of Joplin, who was second.

genthau said, was that recent world selling had come largely from India and China.

Heavy American buying began several weeks ago after the world price had dropped abruptly more than 10 cents. July silver imports, according to Commerce Department figures, approximated in value $30,000,000, the largest monthly total since the passage of the Silver Act.

The world price remained steady at 67 1/2 cents an ounce for a month, then broke during the last few days under increased selling in London.

Foreign speculators were reported to have accumulated large holdings on the spring advance in anticipation of the American Government would take it off their hands at profitable prices. Lately they were described in market accounts as growing uneasy over the Government's intentions. Apparently they started unloading.

The Government price for newly-mined domestic silver is 77 1/2 cents an ounce, fixed last spring after the rise in the world price.

London Star Says Speculators Put U. S. Government to Rout.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The Evening Star says silver speculators routed the United States Government yesterday and caused a slump of three-fourths of a penny in the price of silver, bringing it down to 29 3/4 shillings on a weak market.

The Star says the United States Government has been the only recent buyer of silver and when it permitted the price to fall slightly Tuesday speculators began pouring in selling orders.

Washington, the newspaper continues, at first bought only in small quantities, but then attempted to stem the tide with fresh buying, only to give up the task later. The end of the dealing, the Star says, saw the speculators holding the field. Dealers estimated the turnover exceeded 7,000,000 ounces.

MOON CO. GENERAL CREDITORS TO GET LITTLE IF ANYTHING

Administration Expenses Preferred Claims to Be Paid First From Proceeds of Sale.

General creditors of the defunct Moon Motor Car Co., whose claims total more than $450,000, will receive only a small payment, if any, on their claims, it was said today by Harry S. Rooks, attorney for George F. Dorris, receiver of the company.

Dorris was appointed last March in place of Seneca C. Taylor, appointed five years ago.

Circuit Judge Baron on Tuesday, with consent of all creditors represented in court, authorized the sale of the firm's property at 4400 North Main street to an undisclosed client of the Brett & Naumer Realty Co. for $72,500 cash.

From the proceeds, Rooks said, administration expenses, various other obligations and about $80,000 in preferred claims will have to be adjusted before considering general claims.

Rooks informed the Court the net proceeds would be about $48,000, after paying taxes and incumbencies, but he did not say, as he was quoted in a news article in the Post-Dispatch, that the net balance would be available for distribution among general creditors. The same article erroneously gave the address of the Moon property as 4400 North Broadway, instead of the Main street address.

STANDARD OIL WITHDRAWS OFFER TO BUY TWO FIRMS

By the Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 15.—The Standard Oil Co. of California announced yesterday that it has withdrawn its proposal to acquire the properties of the Richfield Oil Co. and Pan American Co.

"Over three years ago, in July, 1932, Standard's original proposal was made," the Standard Oil Co. statement said. "Since then there have been changes in the character of the assets of those companies. To illustrate, in one instance the sale by Richfield of its Eastern subsidiary. ## 33 IN PICNIC PARTY HURT IN BUS CRASH

Upset in Ditch Follows Collision With Automobile at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Thirty-three persons were injured late yesterday when a double-deck bus, carrying between 40 and 50 persons, upset in a ditch after colliding with a sedan. Seven women and one man, injured seriously, were taken to a hospital.

The party was returning from a picnic in a forest preserve, sponsored by Horace Lindheimer, assistant County Treasurer and Democratic committeeman of the Fifth Ward.

At Cicero avenue and the Southwest highway, the bus collided with the sedan of J. A. Butler of Streator, Ill., skidded about 100 feet, broke off a wooden pole, and upset.

Some of the passengers were injured when they tried to fight their way out of doors and windows. Many seated on the top deck were thrown clear of the wreckage.

Frank Reech, 49 years old, the bus driver, was charged with driving through a stop sign.

OLYMPICS PROTEST MOTION

Proposed Congress Deny Federal Aid for U. S. Participation. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—A resolution forbidding the use of Federal public money to aid American participation in the Olympics to be held in Germany next year was introduced in the House today by Celler (Dem.), New York.

This ban, in the words of the resolution, would be "a protest against the unsportsmanlike attitude of the Reich" in its "studious discrimination against Catholics, Jews, liberal Protestants and Masons."

Should American contestants of the "proscribed race or religion" run in a "dead heat with a German," the resolution asserts, that might "incite the spectators to riot and rowdiness."

MacDonald Gives Conflicting Testimony About Week After Bombing.

By the Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 15.—John MacDonald, 63 years old, who is partly paralyzed, testified today he did not now recall what happened the week after the San Francisco bombing for which Tom Mooney is serving a life sentence in prison. Mooney is relying on MacDonald, a witness at Mooney's trial in 1917, to help him gain his freedom.

Earlier, MacDonald, testifying at his hospital here before a special referee of the California Supreme Court, had given a detailed account of his activities during that week. He had said that during it much of his damaging testimony against Mooney at the trial had been "framed" by prosecuting officials in San Francisco. MacDonald, however, refused to waive immunity and go before a grand jury in California in 1921.

ing the week was given on direct examination by counsel for Mooney. It was on cross-examination that Deputy Attorney-General William Cleary of California got from the witness a statement that he did not now recall his actions during the week.

John Finerty of Washington, Mooney counsel, objected strenuously, contending Cleary was simply attempting to confuse MacDonald. Cleary retorted: "I don't know that MacDonald remembers, but I do believe that after the 10 years in which he has been worked on by Mooney sympathizers that he really does not know what happened."

Cleary again asked MacDonald if his memory was clear on the subject. MacDonald replied: "No, sir." Cleary, turning toward Finerty, said: "There's your answer."

Finerty shouted in reply: "It's not the truth."

Referee A. E. Shaw then remarked to Finerty: "Well, he is your witness."

CONTRACTOR'S AGENTS CONFER WITH UNIONS ON ROAD STRIKE

Attorney for Highway Department Has Ruled Pay on Route 40 Work Is Too Low.

Work on the contract of M. E. Gillioz for construction of a section of the new United States Highway No. 40 in St. Louis County was not resumed today, although the counsel of the State Highway Department decided yesterday on the rate of pay for laborers, which has been the chief point of contention in stopping of work for the last week.

It has not been announced whether Gillioz, whose office is at Monett, Mo., would accept the decision, requiring him to pay 65 cents an hour, instead of 45 cents, making an estimated difference of $20,000 in payroll. A conference was called for today at Chesterfield, between Gillioz' superintendent and business agents of three unions, to discuss hours and other working conditions.

Union members on other road and bridge jobs in the city and county, who picketed the neighborhood of Gillioz' operations for three days this week, on a holiday from their regular work, returned to their employment today, with the understanding that picketing would be resumed if the conference was unsuccessful. However, about 50 union men, who amused themselves playing baseball at Gumbo, continued as pickets of the Gillioz job.

O. D. Ward, Who Denied Charges at Trial in 1933, Relates Details of Crimes.

By the Associated Press.
KENNETT, Mo., Aug. 15.—O. D. Ward, a Negro, confessed last night the crimes for which he is to hang tomorrow morning, Sheriff Tom Donaldson announced.

Ward, who is from Helena, Ark., received the death sentence after he was convicted of attacking two white women near Malden, Mo. He denied the charges during his trial in 1933, and since then he had asserted he was innocent.

Yesterday a minister and Ward's sister visited him at the County Jail and he called Sheriff Donaldson to his cell. There he related details of the crimes.

CHARGE MADE HOPKINS IS PROLONGING RELIEF

Senator McCarran Says Case Workers Encourage Families in Order to Extend Jobs.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Senator McCarran (Dem.), Nevada, told reporters last night that case workers in Harry L. Hopkins' Relief Administration had encouraged families to go on the dole in order to extend their own jobs. McCarran said the attitude of Hopkins was similar to that of the case workers.

"These workers are the ones who go out and say to a family that was just getting along, 'You should be on relief,'" McCarran said. "They're holding their jobs because they are case workers. The more they hold on relief the longer the jobs last. And the longer Mr. Hopkins transports them across state lines, the longer he keeps his job. His carpet bag policy is simply destructive and doesn't lend itself to taking people off relief."

"All Hopkins knows is the Civil Works Administration and I've been afraid all along that that was what the new program would amount to."

Referring to recent strikes in New York, Cleveland and Philadelphia against the $19 to $24 Work Progress Administration wage scale, McCarran said they would be just a "starter." He predicted Hopkins would shortly order revisions "in the spirit of the prevailing wage policy."

McCarran said his forecast was made after conferences "with several groups." WPA officials were quick to deny that any changes were contemplated.

Establishment of 17 educational camps in 11 states for needy, unemployed women were announced by Hopkins. More will follow, he said. The camps already authorized, Hopkins said, will care for 1280 unemployed, unattached women on relief or from families on relief, between 16 and 25 years old.

Miss Hilda Smith, FERA specialist in education, said camp terms will be six weeks or two months, after which efforts will be made to find jobs for the students.

INSTITUTE FOR WILD LIFE RESTORATION IS FORMED

Newly-Elected President Says "We Intend to Take Plenty of Action."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—A campaign for the restoration of all kinds of game and wild life in the United States was begun yesterday at an election meeting of the newly-formed American Wild Life Institute in the offices of Walter P. Chrysler.

The purposes of the new organization were explained by Thomas H. Beck, who was elected president: "We mean to restore game and other wild life by vigorous means, and intend to take plenty of action instead of just sitting around and talking about it. We are not dinner-table sportsmen."

"We expect to expend considerable sums of our own money to restore nesting and breeding grounds for migratory game. Other funds will go toward restoring areas with animal and bird life."

"The institute is absolutely non-political and non-profit making, and we hope to educate Congress and individual State Legislatures to the importance of not only conserving but restoring American wild life."

The institute will be a permanent central organization with headquarters in Washington to assist governmental authorities, Beck said. A national membership of 10,000,000 is hoped for, he said.

MAN CONFESSES KILLING TWO

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Police Inspector William McMahon announced late yesterday that Charles E. Ross, alias Norman Peacock, confessed the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hockfeld during a robbery of their shoe store in Cincinnati last February.

Ross, McMahon said, admitted after hours of questioning that he shot and killed them "when they started to call the cops." He will be held here for Cincinnati authorities. Ross was arrested yesterday and booked for intoxication. When police found a pistol concealed on his person, McMahon said, his fingerprints were checked and his identity established.

Lucille Horan Says They Were Struggling Over Pistol After He Had Struck Her.

By the Associated Press.
HAMBURG, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Lucille Horan, former Broadway dancer, confessed yesterday, authorities said, that she killed her husband in a struggle for his pistol after he had struck her. Miss Horan, 28 years old, told Assistant District Attorney John T. Walsh that she and her husband, Frank, 34, quarreled at their home after returning from Buffalo, where they had visited several night clubs, Walsh said.

A neighbor found her sitting on the Horan lawn beside her husband's body, his head in her lap and their clothing showing signs of a struggle.

ARE SUCH MARRIAGES EVER SUCCESSFUL?

Everyone is familiar with the phrase "caught on the rebound." Perhaps you know of a man or a woman to whom this happened. First an ardent love affair. Then a quarrel. Tears and recriminations. Separation. The wounded heart finds comfort in the love and sympathy of an old friend. And then—a marriage and rebound. How will it work? Suppose the first love enters the scene again? What will be the reaction? Can the new marriage partner hope to win? Or will the first love prove irresistible? Lyon Mearson paints the picture in words, in his absorbing story, "Marriage on the Rebound," in

AAA CUTS WHEAT CROP REDUCTION FOR 1936

New Figure of 5 Pct. of Base Acreage Set After Drop in 1935 Estimate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15. — The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has cut its wheat acreage reduction requirement for 1936 contract signers to 5 per cent of their base acreage, saying the decrease from a previous 15 per cent figure was necessary to assure an adequate supply.

The action was taken yesterday after a crop report indicated a 1935 harvest of 123,000,000 bushels less than the July 1 estimate. Two weeks ago, the Farm Administration had announced that a 15 per cent reduction would be required for farmers signing contracts in 1936. The new reduction would be made on about 52,000,000 acres the AAA hopes to place under four-year contracts.

On July 1, the Agriculture Department predicted a total crop this year of 731,000,000 bushels, but the Aug. 1 estimate was 608,000,000 bushels.

"In the light of this sharp decrease in the crop estimate," the AAA said, "the administration considered that a larger volume of production in 1936 would be desirable insurance to both the farmer and the consumer against the contingency of another year of bad wheat weather."

"This step is taken primarily to assure domestic consumers of continued ample wheat supplies, and in addition is expected to benefit farmers by placing this country in a strengthened position in the world export market. This is considered especially important in view of smaller world supplies of wheat."

The modified ruling is expected to add 5,200,000 acres to next year's plantings over the total anticipated two weeks ago.

UNION AGENTS OBJECT TO WPA RATES OF PAY

Secretary of Building Trades Council Says It Will Insist On Prevailing Wage.

Business agents of the Building Trades Council, meeting last night at Unity Hall, Grand and Page boulevards, expressed unwillingness to permit their members to work for the wages set out in a bulletin of the Works Progress Administration.

John J. Church, secretary of the council, said today to a Post-Dispatch reporter that the WPA rates of pay, as announced in the bulletin, would be 35 cents an hour for unskilled labor and 60 cents hourly for skilled labor. Union rates are 55 cents an hour for unskilled labor and from $1.25 to $1.50 an hour for skilled labor.

Region No. 1 Rates Here.

Mayor Dickmann received a telegram today from Matthew S. Murray, State WPA Administrator, stating that wage schedules for St. Louis had been increased somewhat over the amounts given in the bulletin mentioned by Church. St. Louis has been placed in "Region 1" of the Government's program, the telegram said, so that unskilled labor will be paid 46 cents an hour and skilled labor 71 cents.

Murray's telegram was in response to one sent by the Mayor last night, requesting that the classification of St. Louis be changed from Region 2, in which the lower pay schedules were prescribed.

Church said his organization had no desire to impede the progress of WPA projects here, but would insist on payment of prevailing wages. His organization also believes that it should be designated as a relief agency to aid its members in obtaining WPA jobs, in view of the fact that a considerable portion of the council membership has been kept off relief rolls by staggering of work and donations to relief drives, thus lightening the relief load.

No WPA funds have been formally allotted to St. Louis, but Church pointed out that, in the event the voters approve the proposed $7,500,000 bond issue for the Jefferson Memorial on the river front, Sept. 10, WPA funds will be allotted for raising buildings on the levee to make way for the memorial.

Bond Issue Indorsed.

The council unanimously indorsed the bond issue last night.

Church, Thomas Quinn, president of the council, and William M. Brandt, secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Union, conferred at City Hall yesterday with Mayor Dickmann, city department heads, and Joseph A. Amend and L. E. Greathouse, director and assistant director, respectively, of the WPA in St. Louis and St. Louis County. The object of the conference, the Mayor said, was to forestall labor disputes on WPA projects.

The Mayor told reporters that the union leaders agreed to cooperate. Church was designated to assist A. R. Ross, associate to the president of the Board of Public Service, in handling the labor problem on WPA projects in the city.

AAA UPHOLDS $3000 PENALTY FOR CROP CONTRACT VIOLATION

Corn-Hog Compliance Chief Says Review Shows Assessment Is Justified.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The Agricultural Adjustment Administration stood pat today on a $3000 penalty for a corn-hog contract violation, the largest yet assessed for the 1934 program.

W. O. Frazer, corn-hog compliance chief, announced a review of the penalty against W. P. Adams of Odebolt, Ia., credited with obtaining the largest corn loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation, justified the penalty. He said the AAA could even have canceled Adams' contract for the violation. Instead, the penalty will be deducted from payments still due him on the 1934 program.

While Frazer announced this settled the case so far as the AAA was concerned, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said the case had not been brought to his attention.

23 PCT. DROP IN VALUE OF U. S. COTTON EXPORTS

Decline of 36 Per Cent in Quantity in 1934-1935 Season, Commerce Department Says.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—A decline of 36 per cent in quantity and 23 per cent in value of United States exports of raw cotton during the 1934-1935 cotton season as compared with exports in 1933-1934, was reported today by the Commerce Department.

Total shipments for the 1934-1935 season, August to July, inclusive, aggregated 4,785,000 bales valued at $325,451,000, compared with 7,534,000 bales valued at $421,406,000 for 1933-1934.

The department gave no explanation for the decreases, except to say: "The decline is to be accounted for mainly by smaller shipments to Germany (976,000 bales less), United Kingdom (540,000 less), France (326,000 less), Japan (326,000 less), China (267,000 less) and Italy 175,000 bales less."

East St. Louis License Collections.

License collections in East St. Louis during the month of July totaled $17,779.80, according to the report of City Clerk Tierney submitted to the City Council. Collections on liquor licenses were $14,490.50; on store good fees, $1083.30; and on wheel taxes, $473.50.

GOV. PARK DEDICATES GAME AND FISH BUILDING AT FAIR

More Wild Creatures Have Been Raised in Last Two Years.

SEDALIA, Mo., Aug. 15.—Gov. Guy B. Park broke a bottle of sparkling water in dedication of the new Game and Fish Building at the Missouri State Fair yesterday.

C. E. McMullin, St. Louis, also spoke, saying more game had been raised in Missouri the last two years than in any previous 10-year period. He praised private contributors to the department.

Yesterday was "Kansas City day" and the attendance was estimated by officials at 45,000, compared to Tuesday's estimated 35,000. Some 10,000 pressed into the grand stands at the racetrack.

Today is "Music Festival," "Jefferson City," "State University" and "State Highway" day.

About 200 Missouri University alumni are expected to attend a fairgrounds luncheon; Class B schools and municipal bands will compete and then join in a massed band concert in the evening.

Highway commissioners from Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas and three officials representing the highway department of the Mexican Government are expected to attend a roadside beautification conference along with Missouri county committees.

Decline of 36 Per Cent in Quantity in 1934-1935 Season, Commerce Department Says.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—A decline of 36 per cent in quantity and 23 per cent in value of United States exports of raw cotton during the 1934-1935 cotton season as compared with exports in 1933-1934, was reported today by the Commerce Department.

Total shipments for the 1934-1935 season, August to July, inclusive, aggregated 4,785,000 bales valued at $325,451,000, compared with 7,534,000 bales valued at $421,406,000 for 1933-1934.

The department gave no explanation for the decreases, except to say: "The decline is to be accounted for mainly by smaller shipments to Germany (976,000 bales less), United Kingdom (540,000 less), France (326,000 less), Japan (326,000 less), China (267,000 less) and Italy 175,000 bales less."

NUMBER OF DEAD IN ITALIAN FLOOD AREA INCREASING

Officials in Charge of Relief Work Believe Total Will be Much Higher Than Estimate of 250.

By the Associated Press.
TURIN, Italy, Aug. 15.—Engineers, soldiers, physicians and relief workers were trying to create order today in the flood-desolated area about Ovada, where the collapse of a hydro-electric dam loosed waters Tuesday that killed more than 250 persons.
The 15,000,000 cubic meters of water stored behind the dam did nearly $25,000,000 damage to buildings and crops in the Orba River valley.
First aid stations manned by military surgeons and with soldier nurses were established. The stations were crowded with the injured and sick. Remnants of families were visiting the temporary morgue.

Estimates of Dead.
Estimates as to the number of dead ran originally as high as 1000, and officials in charge of relief work said they believed the final total, after the wreckage has been thoroughly searched, would run much higher than the 250 dead listed officially. Unconfirmed reports placed it at 850.

Battalions of army engineers are clearing wreckage, recovering bodies, making temporary roads and erecting bridges through the valley. Four of the bridges replace spans swept away by the wall of water.

King Victor Emmanuel went into the area from his summer home near Turin to give his condolences to his stricken subjects.

Militia and Army Aid.
Premier Mussolini, through Secretary Starace of the Fascist party, has ordered every resource of the Fascist militia, the regular army and the civil government to be used in aiding the sufferers.
The watchman at the Ovada dam was one of those killed. An investigation showed that when he heard the rush of waters down the mountain, following a cloudburst, he ran to open the discharge valves on the dam in an effort to lessen the shock of the rising tide of waters. Even as he twisted frantically on the valve control the dam gave way and the huge wall of water, many feet high, burst up on the valley.

Water Dropped 125 Feet.
The watchman, his family and his house were swept away as the waters raced out for 32 miles down the valley. In its first plunge, the water dropped 125 feet to the valley below the dam.

Among the dead are supposed to be a number of wealthy persons from Genoa who made the mountain region their summer resort.
The outstanding hero of the flood, a man who saved seven from drowning, is an automobile mechanic of Ovada.

Beauty Culturists' Wage Scale.
A weekly wage of $16.50 for a 45-hour week was recommended for women beauty culturists, manicurists, desk clerks and shop managers at a public hearing yesterday at the Broadway Hotel, East St. Louis. The hearing, which also recommended wage scales for apprentices and maids, is the third held in Illinois seeking to establish a state-wide wage scale for union beauty shop employees.

$200,000 IN EAST ST. LOUIS LENT UNDER HOUSING ACT

Money Is Available Through Local Banks; Amounts Range From $100 to $2000.

Four hundred and fifty loans totaling $200,000 have been made to East St. Louis home owners to date under provisions of the National Housing Act, according to G. R. Salisbury, field representative of the Federal Housing Administration, in charge of the East St. Louis home modernization survey.
These loans are available through four East St. Louis banks, the First National, the Southern Illinois National, the Stockyards National and the Union Trust Co., and may be obtained in amounts ranging from $100 to $2000 for residences, up to $50,000 for commercial and industrial property.

For the past six weeks 50 solicitors from the St. Clair County relief rolls have been making a canvass of the city to familiarize some owners with requirements for obtaining loans. Prospective borrowers are assisted in making out applications and furnished with a list of 53 approved contractors.

Headquarters for the home modernization campaign have been established in the Broadview Hotel, where prospective borrowers may make inquiries and inspect exhibits of household appliances that may be purchased with FHA loans.

GOV. CURLEY NAPS IN CAPITOL, GUARD DOESN'T KNOW HIM

Watchman Housess Sleeper, Then Finds He Is Massachusetts Executive.

BOSTON, Aug. 15.—The vigilance of a State House guard early today led him into an embarrassing situation. The guard was making the rounds of the building when he discovered the door to a rest room unlocked. He entered. A man lay on a couch, sound asleep, partly clad and protected by a blanket made of newspapers.

The guard shook the intruder somewhat roughly and inquired: "What are you doing here?"

"Know who I am?" the man inquired.

"No, I don't, but I'd like to know," the guard answered.

"I'm Gov. Curley," the man said. And it was Gov. James M. Curley, who, tired from staying up all night to prorogue the Massachusetts Legislature, had sought a few minutes' rest.

E. F. HUTTON, FINANCIER, AND HIS WIFE SEPARATE

Pair Married Since 1929; He Is Uncle of Former Barbara Hutton.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Edward F. Hutton, one of America's wealthiest financiers, and his wife, Marjorie Post Close Hutton, have separated. It was learned last night from Henry A. Uterhart, counsel for Mrs. Hutton.

Hutton, chairman of the board of the General Foods Corporation, is the uncle of Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, formerly the wife of the late Prince Alexis Mdivani.

The Huttons were married in 1929, and for many years were regarded by the society circle in which they moved as ideally suited to one another.

In 1934 Hutton took a leave of absence from his numerous business interests, and he and Mrs. Hutton made a protracted world cruise in their four-masted sailing yacht, "Huzzar."

Uterhart did not disclose the terms of the separation, and said nothing of the cause of it.

He added that Nadenia, 11-year-old daughter and the only child of the marriage, would live with her mother.

Mrs. Hutton's first marriage was to the late Charles W. Post. Hutton's first wife was Blanche Horton, who died in 1919.

SALES TAX COLLECTION PUT UP TO RETAILERS

State Auditor Says Taken Card Plan Is Mere Suggestion; Favors Bracket System.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 15.—State Auditor Forrest Smith said last night the proposed "meal ticket" taken card was not an order but a "suggestion" to aid retailers in collecting Missouri's consumer-absorbed 1 per cent sales tax which would become effective Aug. 27.

He said he "knew he could not compel merchants to print the cards at their own expense, but merely suggested this system as a last resort to provide some means for retailers collecting the tax from the consumer."

"If they don't want to use the cards, I can't compel them to, but I do expect to collect 1 per cent of their gross sales at the end of the month," Smith declared. "It's not up to my department to collect the tax from the consumer—that's the job of the retailer."

"I have attempted every means I know of to provide some system of collection for the retailers as provided under the State law. The Government declared invalid use of tokens, coupons or stamps, but it did not say a retailer could not issue his own tokens. That seems to be the only avenue left."

Booklet of Regulations.

Smith announced his department today would mail booklets containing sales tax regulations to approximately 75,000 retailers. The booklets contain a suggested design for the cards. It resembles a "meal ticket," and contains five 1-mill, seven half-mill, five 3-10ths mill and five 1-10th mill sections for punching purposes and the following inscription: "This ticket entitles the bearer to buy one dollar's worth of merchandise without paying further tax at any place of business of the above merchant in Missouri."

Bracket Schedule Proposed.

Use of the "bracket" system of collection, which Attorney-General Roy McKittick previously had declared "invalid," also was suggested by Smith.

He stated in the booklet that "for the purpose of more efficiently collecting the tax so that, where impracticable to collect exact amount of the tax, the equivalent thereof may be collected, the State Auditor suggests use of the bracket by all merchants, and added:

"It must be understood that the auditor is only suggesting the use of this bracket and does not compel the merchant to use it."

The following is Smith's proposed bracket schedule: Sales 1 to 14 cents, 1 mill tax; 15 to 24 cents, two mills; 25 to 34 cents, three mills; 35 to 44 cents, four mills; 45 to 54 cents, five mills; 55 cents, six mills; 65 to 74 cents, seven mills; 75 to 84 cents, eight mills; 85 cents to 94 cents, nine mills; 95 to $1.04, one cent.

One per cent sales tax revenue is expected to provide approximately $2,000,000 a month, which will furnish funds for old age assistance, eleemosynary costs, State relief and schools.

UNEMPLOYED TWO YEARS, MAN SHOTS AND KILLS SELF

Robert Tustin, Former Embalmer, Leaves Three Notes, One Asking for Forgiveness.

Robert Tustin, 40-year-old unemployed embalmer, shot and killed himself yesterday. He was found unconscious, a bullet wound in the head and a revolver nearby, in a bedroom of his home at 4310 North Nineteenth street at 1:30 p. m. He died at City Hospital six hours later.

His wife, Mrs. Bernice Tustin, said he had been depressed by two years of unemployment. He left three notes, one asking forgiveness of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Tustin, another asking his wife to say good-bye to his friend, Charlie, and the third stating, "God have mercy on my soul."

The two were friends in Wellston High School and met again later when both were students at Central Wesleyan College, Warrenton, Mo. They had been engaged for three years. McGinnis, who lives at 6202 Lotus avenue, Wellston, is 27 years old, his bride 26. They will live at the McGinnis home.

TWO BOYS RESCUED IN DESERT

Youths From Illinois Found Unconscious in Arizona.

EL CENTRO, Cal., Aug. 15.—Found unconscious on the desert with the thermometer registering 120 degrees and the humidity in the fifties, Jack Benson, 17 years old of Atlanta, Ga., and Russell West, 16, Danville, Ill., were patients in County Hospital here today.

The boys, who had hitch-hiked to San Diego, Cal., to see the exposition, were en route home when found by a train crew on the tracks near Yuma, Ariz. Both were unconscious from thirst and heat. Small quantities of water given them by the railroad men and first aid treatment saved their lives. Benson and West said they had been without water for 16 hours.

Midnight Show Audience Urged Not to Arrive Before 11:30.

The Municipal Opera management has requested opera goers attending the special midnight performance tomorrow of "Roberta" not to arrive at the theater before 11:30 o'clock, when the doors will be opened. This will avoid congested traffic in the park, facilitate the handling of parking, and at the same time allow the audience at the regular show to depart. The performance will start promptly at midnight.

Seats for the extra "Roberta" showing and "Whoopie" are on sale at the downtown box office in the lobby of the Arcade Building, Eighth and Olive streets, or at night at the theater in Forest Park. About 12,000 persons saw "Roberta" last night, continuing the record audiences for this week's production. All of the 10,300 seats were filled, about 2700 persons stood and several thousand were turned away. Seats at all prices are still available for the midnight show.

Well Digger Hurt in 60-Foot Fall.

John Lesky, 58 years old, well digger of Belleville, was in a serious condition at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville today as a result of injuries suffered in a 60-foot fall yesterday at the Edgemont Coal Co. building, at Edgemont Station. Lesky was cleaning an air shaft, when the cable holding a bucket, in which he was being lowered, suddenly parted. He survived a fractured skull and a fractured left arm in the fall.

GEORGIE PRICE'S FIRST MUNICIPAL OPERA ROLE

Stage and Radio Comedian to Appear in "Whoopie" Next Week.

Georgie Price, stage and radio comedian, will appear for the first time at the Municipal Theater in the Ziegfeld musical success, "Whoopie," which will be presented next week by the Municipal Opera as the final offering of the 12-week season.

Price was delighting audiences at the age of 16 with his singing and comedy antics. Among the musical plays in which he was a feature were: "The Kid Cabaret," "The Hand Box Revue," and "The Song Revue." "The Spice of 1923," "Artists and Models," "The Passing Show" and "A Night in Spain." He was author-producer of "The Song Writer," a musical success of several years ago, in which he also played the leading role. He will play the part of Henry Williams in "Whoopie."

Gil Lamb, Katherine Carrington and Audrey Christie, who appeared in previous Municipal Opera productions this year, will be included in the cast. Lamb, eccentric dancer and comedian, whose work in "Madame Sherry" and "Sunny" at the Municipal Theater was an outstanding feature this season, will return to play the part of Andy Nab in "Whoopie." Miss Carrington, Broadway actress and singer, who was the feminine star in "Madame Sherry," will appear in the role of Sally Morgan. Miss Christie will play the part of Mary Custer, the nurse.

Other principals will be Jerry Goff, Freda Sullivan, Charles MacVord, Roy Gordon, Earle E. Gallagher, Al Downing, Una Val, Victor Casmore, Rosemary Deering and Duke McHale.

LOBBYING CHARGE IN SUIT BY STATE TO OUST CONCERN

Petition Accuses Corporation Trust Co. of New Jersey of Exceeding Powers and Privileges.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 15.—Ouster from Missouri of the Corporation Trust Co. of New Jersey, which has an office in St. Louis, at 208 North Broadway, on charges that the company had usurped and exceeded its corporate powers and privileges, including alleged lobbying before the 1935 Missouri Legislature against bills affecting foreign corporations, was sought in a quo warranto proceeding filed in the Missouri Supreme Court today by Attorney-General McKittick.

McKittick asked that the court forfeit the license of the company to do business in Missouri as a foreign corporation, that it be ousted, and that the company be fined. He said he understood the company, which furnishes numerous corporation services to business firms, operated in several states. The formal petition filed today did not go into detail on the charge of lobbying, merely stating that among the numerous practices complained of, the company "did endeavor" in 1935 during the session of the fifty-eighth General Assembly of Missouri to influence legislation affecting the rights, duties and obligations of foreign corporations.

Plans to Call Legislators.
McKittick said the lobbying phase of the case would be brought out in detail after hearings begin. He will ask for appointment of a special commissioner by the court to conduct hearings and take testimony. McKittick said several members of the 1935 Legislature would be called as witnesses to testify concerning the alleged lobbying activities.

McKittick asserted representatives or agents of the company were especially active in the last session in connection with a bill making extensive changes in the requirements as to foreign corporations licensed to do business in Missouri, and making possible the collection of larger fees by the State from such corporations. This bill passed the Senate but failed in the House.

Practice of Law Alleged.
The petition charged the company had exceeded its corporate powers by engaging in the practice of law. In this connection it was charged the company, for fees, had prepared corporation papers, given legal advice on incorporations, obtained corporate charters for firms, had solicited business in organization of corporations, had given advice as to corporation laws, filing of State reports and tax matters, and that its representatives had appeared before State administrative officials on behalf of corporations.

McKittick charged the company had furnished "temporary or fictitious" incorporators for the formation of corporations under the Delaware law by residents and citizens of Missouri. It was charged that the incorporators thus furnished "are merely used for the purpose of fraudulently avoiding the laws of the State of Missouri." It was asserted that another purpose of the alleged practice of using such incorporators was to withhold from State officials the names and addresses of the real owners and incorporators of such companies.

The petition was filed by McKittick and Assistant Attorneys-General Drake Watson and Covell R. Hewitt.

NEW ACTING POLICE CHIEF NAMED IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Detective Sergeant O'Rourke to Succeed James Murphy, Who Goes to Record Department.

Detective Sergeant Michael O'Rourke of East St. Louis was appointed Acting Chief of Police by the East St. Louis Fire and Police Board last night. He takes the place of James Murphy, who has served as Acting Chief for three years.

Murphy will retain the rank of Lieutenant and take over O'Rourke's former duties as head of the detective record department. Both O'Rourke and Murphy will receive $170 a month. The board also promoted Detective Raymond Chasler to Detective Sergeant at $155 a month.

The board granted pensions to Sgt. Cornelius Meehan and Traffic Patrolmen James Walker and Joseph Goetz. Each had served on the East St. Louis police force for at least 20 years. Five new probationary patrolmen were appointed, making the total personnel of the department 51. All changes and appointments were made by the unanimous action of the three-member board.

New Ruling on Liquor Displays.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 15.—Show window placards or displays picturing persons holding bottles or glasses advertising intoxicating liquors are taboo in Missouri, the State Liquor Control Department announced today. SPORTSMAN'S PARK, Aug. 15.—Russell Van Atta got another chance to start for the Browns this afternoon when he opposed the Philadelphia Athletics in the third game of the series.

Moody to Meet Jacobs Again.

T IS now established, by information received from both fountain heads, that the battle of the Helens will be renewed at Forest Hills in the women's national tennis championships.

Both have announced their intention to compete — and this probably will make the women's title event this year worth almost as much in box office value as the men's, notwithstanding Fred Perry and other notables are coming for the men's test.

Those of us who have never seen either woman play in a championship can still form long-range convictions. One of these is that Miss Jacobs is not the great natural player that Miss Moody has shown herself to be. Nor does she seem to have as good a temperament for "fighting" purposes.

Miss Jacobs' chance to win seems to lie, according to critics who watched both play at Wimbledon, in Mrs. Moody's lack of sufficient tournament play and in the fact that the older Helen is two years away from her top game.

Another Interesting Prospect.

OWING to the discussion as to the handling of Davis Cup players, the men's national tennis championship this year will afford an interesting sidelight. That will be in the respective showings of Sidney Wood, the "Forgotten Man" of the Davis Cup team, and Wilmer Allison, chosen by Captain Joe Wear to represent America in the Interzone final and challenge rounds over Wood.

The 5-0 defeat of the Americans by the Britons developed the usual recriminations. If Wood and Allison meet in the title tourney it is certain to be a highly interesting struggle.

Wood has been highly rated at times. Bill Tilden says he assesses the best form of all the American players of Davis Cup quality today. Still, Wood has yet to make good in the pinch. Allison, a fighter, had some success in the past; but years and playing in both doubles and singles.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles: that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Notes on AAA Policies.

THE withdrawal of the purchasing agent for Japanese spinners from the State of Texas is of grave concern in itself, but taken in conjunction with the terrific increase of rayon and cotton fabrics that are being imported, it portends a semi-national agricultural calamity.

American cotton exports for the fiscal year are 3,105,000 bales below last year. Government warehouses are full and a new crop is ready to harvest. There is an increased domestic consumption of 27,000,000 square yards of Japanese cotton goods. Such is the situation developed and defended by the AAA Administrator.

Whether we like it or not, the fundamental law of life is "the survival of the fittest." When man refuses to adjust himself to the conditions of the age in which he lives, he goes into oblivion. There is no other way. America may fix prices on domestic commodities within her borders, but when she sells her surplus she must accept the world price.

The great English market for American beef is being destroyed by the same forces as is the German market for pork. When this mania for prosperity via the magic carpet is past, and the super-intellectuals are back teaching kindergarten classes, we will be trading the patches on our pants for a bowl of cabbage soup.

Rugged individualism has been ridiculed by the Brain Trust, as well as those trusted without brains but neither class has furnished any proof that this Government cannot live without it. When individual incentive is curtailed and hopes of achievement destroyed, we become a country of collective beggars waiting for providence to feed us.

A. F. MYRICK.

"Enemies of the State."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH:
It must be very painful indeed to those thousands of German veterans who so gallantly and so heroically defended their native land against a world of enemies for four long years, to be termed enemies of the State. Jews who have been there for hundreds of years, native Catholics, whose mothers taught them their religion in their cradles, men and women of thought, science and art and now the Freemasons are all classified as enemies of the State. Who then, if any, are considered the loyal citizens of Germany?

What Is Tiff?

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH:
As long as tiff is prominently in the public mind, would not a free discussion of the whole subject be interesting? Would I be accused of shooting fire balls and weaving a spell if I should ask, "What is tiff?" True, it is apparently a mineral. It has weight, which seems important, and it has color, a beautiful white. But has it any other quality whatsoever? They will tell you it is used as a base. Can anything be used as a base that has no other quality than weight without assuming a questionable character? As an amateur chemist, I say no.

Tiff is put in paint because it has the heft of white lead while it has not a single character of the lead it so boldly displaces. It is used in many articles and it is a standing joke that the tiff miner gets it back in flour and sugar.

But is such a thing a joke? Why does not a Government chemist investigate this stuff? He would probably find that long ago, when this region was a boiling caldron, the lead settled and the tiff cooled over it as a congealed scum from the pure metal. It is really nothing. Place some on a hot stove and it pops away into the air and leaves no residue whatever.

The Europeans use tiff for ship ballast but those thrifty folks have found no industrial use for it. WM. WOLFE.

Mineral Point, Mo.

Suggestion for Miss Robinson.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH:
PLEASE allow me to commend Elsie Robinson on her feature article in the Post-Dispatch of Aug. 9, entitled "The Dangers of Inequality in Prosperity." I find her daily articles very interesting and instructive. Why not write us a book on conditions in the United States, Elsie? You would have a much more interesting subject than Rosa King had in "far-off Mexico." If we had more writers like you and Rosa King, perhaps the "peons" and "serfs" in the United States could be aroused to consciousness.

WADE H. O'TOOLE.

Jesse W. Barrett for Governor.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE POST-DISPATCH:
FOR four years I have been looking for good timber for the next Governor of Missouri. I have found the man I believe would be acceptable to Republicans and Democrats alike. This man has been at the peak of his profession for a number of years. He has served as Attorney-General of the State of Missouri, president of the State Bar Association, as State Commander of the American Legion.

I have asked quite a number of Democrats and Republicans what they think of him and they all say he is the man for the job.

I refer to Jesse W. Barrett, St. Louis lawyer. CLARENCE E. PROSE.

MR. ROOSEVELT SURRENDERS.

By his incredible action in signing the Spanish War veterans' bill, Mr. Roosevelt has completely repudiated principles he has repeatedly professed. He has dealt the final death blow to the National Economy Act of 1933, fostered by him as a measure essential for the preservation of the nation's financial security. He has joined Congress in its abject surrender to the veterans' lobby. He has saddled upon the already sorely-harassed taxpayer an additional burden, whose first year's cost is estimated at approximately $45,000,000.

The bill restores to the pension rolls about 50,000 veterans and dependents of veterans of the Spanish War, the Boxer Rebellion and the Philippine Insurrection. These persons will now receive from $20 to $72 every month, regardless of their private income, cause of disability or service record. It is in effect a straight-out service pension, bearing no relation whatever to disabilities incurred as a result of war service. It will go to many persons who are not in financial need.

In the light of the President's past actions and statements, his action is inexplicable. It was he who first removed these people from their favored position at the public crib by obtaining the passage of the National Economy Act. It was he who appeared at the annual convention of the American Legion in October, 1933, and laid down the following principles, the second of which has now been outrageously violated:

The first principle, following inevitably from the obligation of the citizens to bear arms, is that the Government has a responsibility for and toward those who suffered injury or contracted disease while serving in its defense.

The second principle is that no person, because he wore a uniform, must thereafter be placed in a special class of beneficiaries over and above all other citizens. The fact of wearing a uniform does not mean that he can demand and receive from his Government a benefit which no other citizen receives. It does not mean that because a person served in the defense of his country, he should receive a pension from his Government because of a disability incurred after his service had terminated, and not connected with that service.

In the White House statement on the signing of the bill, an attempt is made to draw a distinction between veterans of early wars and those of the World War. It is the first time Mr. Roosevelt has ever made such a distinction. In fact, in vetoing the Independent Offices Act in March, 1934, he said:

The Spanish-American War veterans' amendment to this act provides for service pensions. This violates the principles upon which benefits to veterans should be paid and the principles to which I have referred in this message. . . . Without going further into all of the details relating to the treatment—past, present and future—of Spanish-American War veterans, it seems sufficient to repeat that I am wholly and irreconcilably opposed to the principle of the general service pension, but I do seek to provide with liberality for all those who suffered because of their service in that war.

The White House statement says: "The approval of this bill establishes no ground or precedent for pensions for the World War group; theirs is an entirely different case." Since when? In the same veto message referred to above, Mr. Roosevelt clearly intimated that service pensions for Spanish-American War veterans would increase the danger of service pensions for World War veterans. He, moreover, totted up the estimated cost. Said the President:

If that principle (service pensions) should be in the future applied to the World War veterans by this bill, the annual and continuing charges upon the people of this country by 1949 would amount to more than $820,000,000 for that item alone. This would be in addition to the large cost of all existing veterans' benefits and future hospitalization.

Mr. Roosevelt vetoed the Patman bonus bill in May of this year, with a message that stirred the admiration of the country. In it, he restated his position against the creation in this country of a special class of citizens, favored by Government largesse, over other classes. He said:

But it (the credit of the United States) cannot ultimately be safe if we engage in a policy of yielding to each and all of the groups that are able to enforce upon the Congress claims for special consideration. To do so is to abandon the principle of government by and for the American people and to put in its place government by and for political coercion by minorities.

In giving his approval to the Spanish-American War bill, Mr. Roosevelt himself has scuttled the principle of government which, less than three months ago, he held up to the country in justification of his attitude on the Patman bill.

A few figures on the Spanish-American War pension grab: (The figures include the Boxer Rebellion and the Philippine Insurrection.) Approximately 300,000 men were engaged. Total casualties from all causes, including those killed and those who died of wounds and disease, were 15,885. By Oct. 1, 1932, 233,306 persons were on the pension rolls, or about the same number as the present total, including those just restored. Thus, there are about 15 times as many pensions as there were casualties. Up to June 30, 1933, payments aggregated $312,000,000. The annual load on the taxpayer for this one pension group alone is greatly in excess of $100,000,000.

It is urged that, if Mr. Roosevelt had vetoed this latest Treasury raid, it would have been repassed by Congress over his veto. That, however, does not relieve the President of the slightest degree of responsibility. It is one of the failures of American democracy that organized minorities have shown their ability to rush Congress off its feet. But the country looks to the President to resist such pressure with all the prestige and power of his great office.

Mr. Roosevelt not only has failed to meet that expectation, but he has dragged in the dust the once-proud plumes of his own principles.

SENATOR CONNALLY RINGS THE BELL.

The common-sense reason for retaining the Supreme Court as the arbiter of constitutional questions arising under our Federal system of separated powers has been put by Senator Tom Connally in a single sentence so clearly and concisely that it would be difficult to improve on his words. Speaking before the Virginia State Bar Association last week at White Sulphur Springs, the Texan said:

As an American citizen, I oppose divesting the Supreme Court of the power to continue and interpret the Constitution at the suit of any citizen of the Republic whenever any right guaranteed to him by that instrument may be invaded by the Congress, the executive, the courts or any state of the Union.

Senator Connally's excellent statement not only brings out the importance of the Supreme Court as a protector of the rights of citizens. It serves the further good purpose of emphasizing the positive function of a body whose critics would like to make it appear wholly negative in action and effect. When the Supreme Court stands on guard against the invasion of the individual guarantees of the Constitution—as it does day in and day out—it performs a positive service which alone would justify its existence and its power to interpret the Constitution and the laws enacted under the Constitution.

A DEFLATED HOPSON.

The late fugitive from the subpoena, Howard C. Hopson, had a bad day yesterday. Proceedings had hardly started before he began to wilt. An offensive remark aroused the ire of Representative Cox of the House Lobby Investigating Committee, who threatened to kick the witness out of the room if he didn't withdraw it. He withdrew it.

Mr. Cox also dragged a rare fighting word out of the dictionary. Observing that newspaper reports of Monday gave the impression that the House committee was protecting the witness against the Senate committee, Mr. Cox spiritedly denied it. "If the Senate wants him," said Mr. Cox, "it should have him, and if he does not voluntarily surrender himself to the Senate, it should take him bodily."

It was Hopson's fear that "the Black Senate committee would get him in its clutches" that prompted his foolish flight. But the Senate committee was not to be denied. It served an instant subpoena on him yesterday and moved to cite him for contempt if he failed to appear. He failed to appear and was cited. The Senate upheld the action of its committee and ordered Hopson to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt.

Contempt of the Senate is a hazardous adventure. It landed Harry Sinclair in "a common jail." A former Assistant Secretary of Commerce, W. P. MacCracken, had a similar experience. Hopson may be headed in the same direction.

As a matter of fact, if not of law, Hopson has been guilty of contempt of the Senate, of the House and of the country. His flight from the subpoenas of the Senate and House committees was contemptuous of both bodies, contemptuous of public opinion and a thoroughly stupid performance.

Hopson's little hour of triumph has passed. The deflation has set in. He couldn't escape the clutches of Senator Black, upon whom the mantle of the late Senator Walsh of Montana seems to have descended. Yes, the Hopson prospect is Black in name and black in color.

FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD.

The Prince of Wales has solved the problem of how to get away from it all. He has found a villa more isolated than "a lodge in a vast wilderness" which the poet sighed for. The only approach to it is a tunnel patrolled by guardsmen every whit as competent as Haile Selassie's lions. So the Prince drifts down the blue and gold Riviera days, unmolested by the camera's click, the autograph hunter's entreaty, the social climber's ingratiating smile and the other ills to which royal flesh is heir. By the end of the month, when he returns to London, H. R. H. expects to be in the pink of condition, ready to open a bazaar without spilling a drop or lay a cornerstone without a cackle. The villa, it is explained, belongs to the Marquess of Cholmondeley, pronounced "Cheerio."

"SONG PASSES NOT AWAY."

Sir William Watson was a survivor of the late Victorian era. So anachronistic a survivor was he, in fact, that a fast-moving world had all but forgotten him, and was only rallied to relieve his poverty in 1930, when more fortunate colleagues raised a testimonial fund for him. Watson did not deserve such neglect. His poetry ranks with that of the masters of his time, and he realized the promise that Tennyson hailed with the exultant "Always it is verses, verses, but now comes a poet." His major works were stately and of classical mold, contemplative rather than dramatic or impressionistic, polished for clarity and epigrammatic phrasing. Such writings may not be in the mode today, but they enshrine some of our literature's finest traditions.

Watson was more than an old-fashioned poet, however. He wrote terse and pointed quatrains, acute criticisms, fiery verse on political questions. An example of the latter is the withering "Woman With the Serpent's Tongue," directed at Margot Asquith, which is one of the bitterest invectives in the language. His versatility is made obvious on realizing that he also wrote the delicate and charming song beginning:

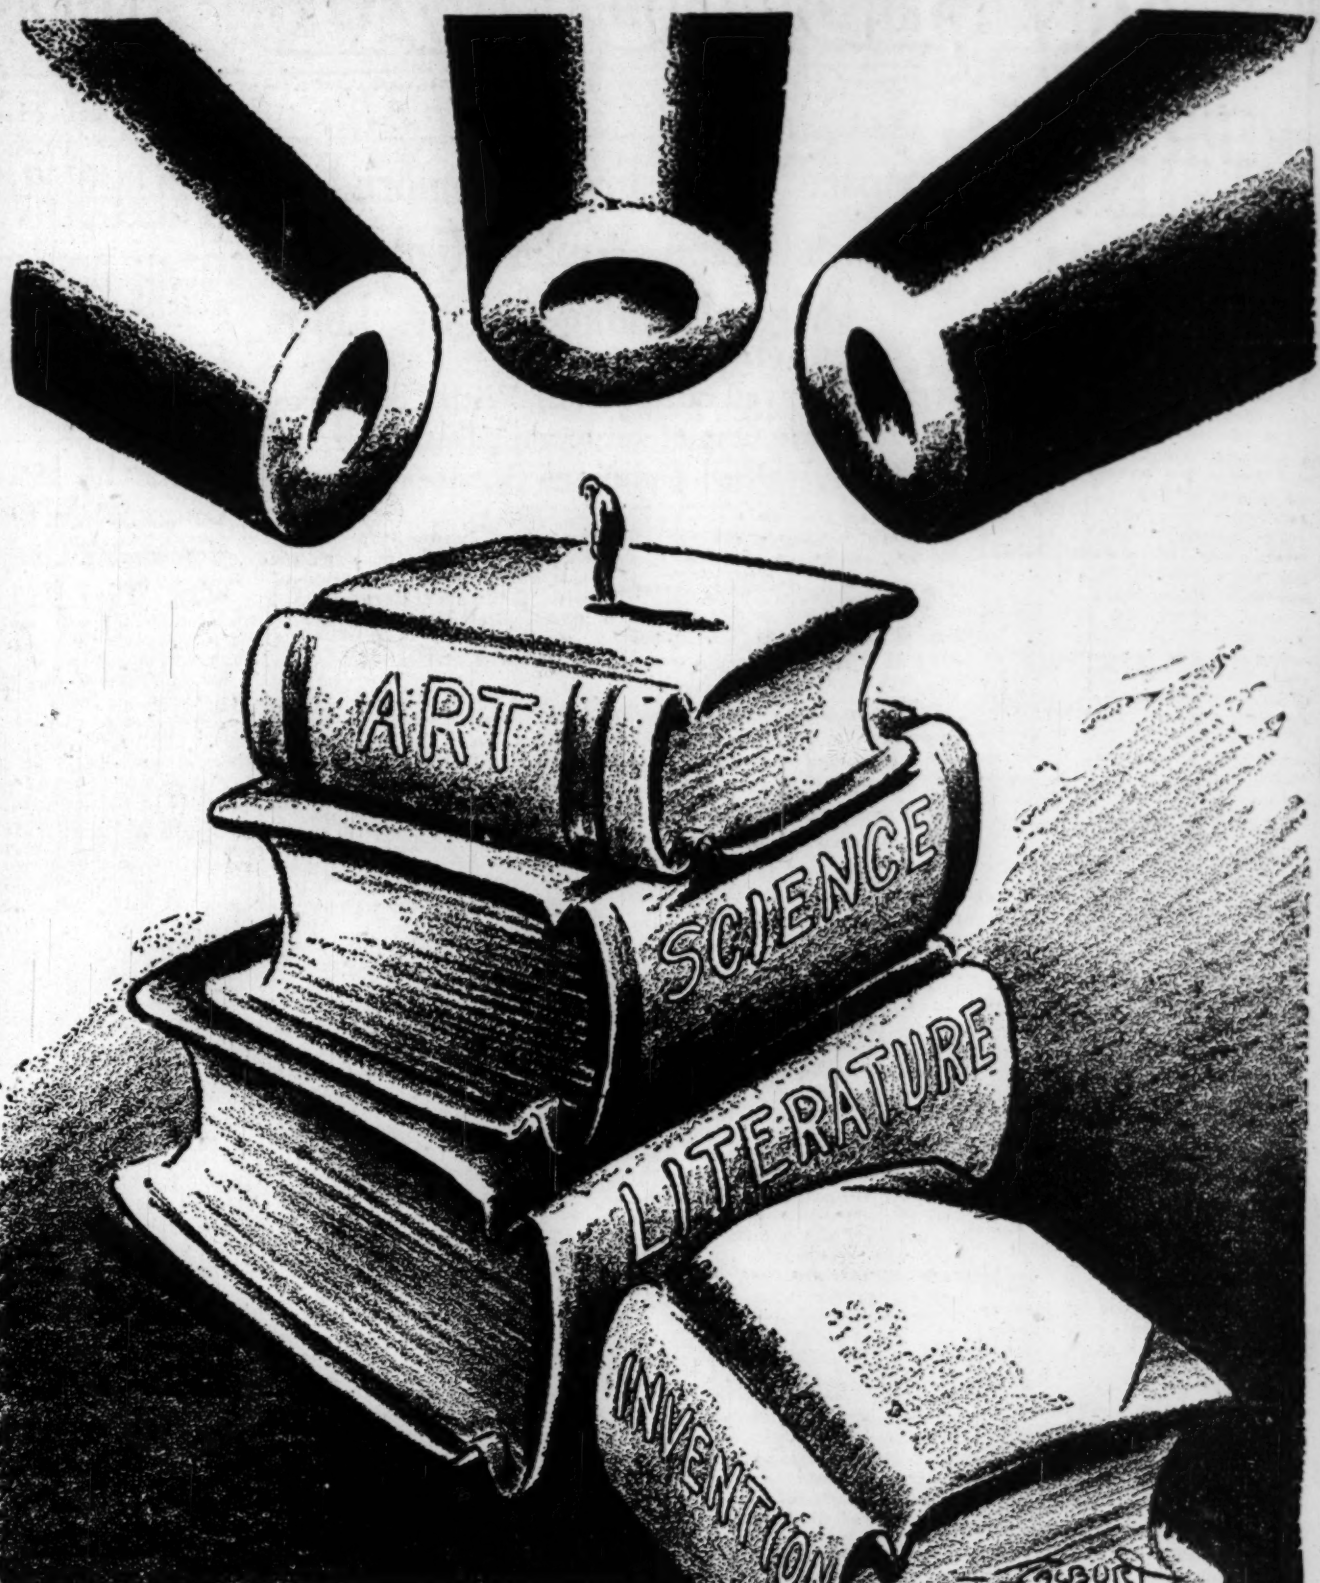

April, April, laugh thy girlish laughter;
Then, the moment after, weep thy girlish tears!
Surviving his colleagues, his time of fruitfulness and much of his public, Watson's end at 77 may well be marked by what he wrote in a poem on Tennyson's death: "Empires dissolve and peoples disappear; song passes not away."

ILLINOIS AND THE COAL BILL.

A canvass shows the Illinois delegation in the House of Representatives overwhelmingly against the House-Snyder bituminous coal bill. Representative Chester Thompson (Dem.) of Rock Island, who was one of the members of the House Ways and Means Committee to vote against the bill, announces that he will continue his opposition. Other Democratic members from the Prairie State stand committed against the measure, while the six Republicans in the delegation are expected to vote unanimously against it. This is news which should cheer coal consumers who would have to pay the price of the Guffey-Snyder bill. For if the bill is not popular among the Representatives of a great coal-producing State like Illinois, it is hard to believe that it is popular among very many members of Congress.

WAR PROFITS LEGISLATION GOES OVER.

Administration leaders in Congress, with the approval of the special Senate committee investigating the munitions industry, have decided not to take further action on legislation to remove the profit from war until the next session, which convenes in January. We are thoroughly in sympathy with the effort to prevent the building up of private fortunes during time of war and to keep the activities of armament makers from being a menace to safety in peace-time. Yet this postponement seems wise. Legislation of this character is of the utmost importance. It should be carefully studied, with the various considerations duly weighed. Judgment so arrived at is impossible in the short while which remains of the present session of Congress. Meanwhile, the American people, remembering the disclosures of the investigation, should keep the subject well up on the list of important public questions.

MAN, THE CONQUEROR!

—From the New York World-Telegram.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

By Walter Lippmann

A Glimpse of the Real Thing

FOR about 48 hours the country was allowed to see the outlines of a sound, courageous and productive tax bill. This was the bill voted by the Senate Finance Committee Saturday and promptly withdrawn Monday. It was a bill which was broadly based and steeply graduated—a bill warranted to yield good revenues in fair weather and foul, a bill honestly adjusted to ability to pay, a bill honestly adjusted to the safeguards against extravagance.

Though the bill is dead for this session, the Senators who wrote it and stood by it have done a great public service. They have established a standard by which the public can judge the bill that finally passes. They have shown the people the kind of tax bill they must eventually come to if the income tax is to be used as the main source of Federal revenue. They have sketched out the kind of bill which would insure the balancing of the budget. They have shown what must be done if we are to put an end to the alarming degeneration of the whole Federal tax system.

Until Mr. Mellon started to tinker with the income tax in 1924, we had an income tax that rested on a broad base, was graduated according to ability to pay, was highly productive and reliable as a source of revenue. The Mellon plan drastically reduced taxes in the higher brackets and at the same time removed from the tax rolls several millions of individuals in the lower brackets. During the prosperous years just before 1929, when the middle incomes were large and capital gains plentiful, this tax system produced abundant revenues. But after 1930 it virtually collapsed. It was a fair-weather tax system; in fact, a gamble on boom conditions. When all incomes were cut, and the taxable incomes were cut even more by capital losses, the system simply could not produce revenue.

Although taxes on the higher brackets have since been greatly increased, the vital defect of the system has remained. It does not tap the smaller incomes which collectively constitute the bulk of the national income. To get revenues, the taxation of the smaller incomes was unavoidable. But neither Mr. Hoover nor Mr. Roosevelt nor any Congress had the courage to tax the smaller incomes openly and directly. So they have been taxed indirectly and invisibly through what are, in all but name, merely sales taxes.

We now have a tax system which is yielding large revenues and is capable of yielding very large revenues as business recovers. But it is a vicious system. It is not graduated according to ability to pay. It taxes the poor and the moderately well-off heavily but indirectly. Because the tax burden is invisible, the system emasculates popular resistance to expenditure and puts a premium upon extravagance.

Because the Senate bill broadened the base of taxes and was steeply graduated according to ability to pay, it may be described in principle the first soundly conceived tax bill since the income tax structure was undermined by the Mellon plan of 1924.

Though it is now clearer than ever that nothing in the nature of a sincere reform of the tax system is contemplated or is possible at this time, the issue cannot be smothered.

It will present itself again with redoubled force next January when the President brings his budget to Congress.

Two basic questions will then have to be decided. The first is how much money must or should be spent on the relief of unemployment in the year which begins July 1, 1935. The second question is whether the money shall be raised by borrowing or by taxation.

In determining how much money to appropriate for relief, the President and Congress will have to decide two main points. They will have to estimate how many of those on relief will be absorbed into private employment by the business recovery. And they will have to decide whether those who are still unemployed shall be given a dole or given public work.

Their more fundamental problem is to decide whether to finance relief by borrowing or by taxes. The President and Congress will have to make up their minds whether the recovery is far enough advanced to require no further inflationary stimulus. If it is not, it will be better to borrow. If it is, it will be better to tax. In short, they will have to decide whether or not to balance the next budget.

Much of the discussion about balancing the budget turns upon dire prophecies about the dangers of currency inflation. The real question does not seem to me to lie there. A currency inflation of the German type is not indicated by our situation. For such an inflation takes place only where there is an actual shortage of goods in relation to the supply of money; that is to say, during and after wars and revolutions. Our problem since 1929 has been just the reverse: We have had a shortage of money, bank deposit money, in relation to the supply of goods. Our task has not been to check inflation but to overcome deflation.

The method we have used has been to induce the banks to create deposit money by buying Government securities. By this method, horrifying as it is in many of its aspects, we have by main force and awkwardness recreated a large part of the deposit money which was extinguished and destroyed when the banks were compelled to call their loans. This is known as refutation, artificially and deliberately produced. Theoretically, it might have been produced "naturally" if, beginning with the spring of 1933, business men and bankers had had the confidence to borrow and lend, and thus to replenish the supply of money. They did not have the confidence at that time. Whether they lacked it because prices were too low to make business profitable, or because they were still shell-shocked by the depression, or were afraid of the New Deal, is debatable and impossible to determine definitely. The fact is that they lacked confidence, that the natural refutation did not occur, that the artificial refutation was resorted to.

But whatever may have been the situation in 1933 and 1934, the situation today is plainly different. On the one hand we have the benefits of the Government's refutation visible in a substantial increase of bank deposit money, a necessary rise of prices and a wide restoration of profit in farming and in business. On the other hand, we have unmistakable evidence that a

Object Lesson in Sealskins

From the Milwaukee Journal.

YEARS ago, when it seemed that the seals of the North Pacific were facing extinction, the United States, Great Britain and Japan came to an agreement regarding their hunting. The seals would be watched by the United States Bureau of Fisheries. Native hunters would be employed to make the annual kill. Only surplus bulls would be taken. The skins would be divided 70 per cent for the United States, 15 per cent each for Great Britain and Japan.

The agreement has been scrupulously followed. Seals have increased. The seal fur industry has been saved. Presently this year's catch will be unloaded at Seattle. The American and Japanese shares will go to St. Louis to be processed and sold. The British share will go to London. One million eight hundred thousand dollars' worth of furs will be disposed of.

How simple such an agreement is and how well it works. Everybody's interest is taken care of, and it is all accomplished with a minimum of friction and fuss. The fur seal agreement, while a small matter, is one of the proofs that civilization has its value. The big question for common-sense people is: Why are not such agreements possible and usual in larger things, things where more is at stake than the lives of a few seals? Some day, civilization itself may be threatened with extinction. Why are we not preparing for agreement on ways and means to rescue it? If small interests can be protected peacefully and equitably, surely larger interests can be protected the same way.

PUT AND TAKE.

From the Windom (Minn.) Citizen.
THERE will be almost $5,000,000 spent by the State and four times that amount by the Federal Government in Minnesota in the next two years to restore lakes and streams. That's a lot of money, but probably very small amount as compared with what has been spent in this State in past years in obliterating once beautiful lakes and marshes. Aren't civilized people peculiar?

natural refutation, through private borrowing, is well started. In the main it is confined to the refunding of old debts, but that means simply that the costs of production are falling and profits increasing. With things in this state there would seem to be no reason why the Government should resort to further artificial refutation. It is much more likely that a clear-cut decision to stop the artificial measures at the end of this fiscal year would stimulate the natural refutation by bankers and business men. It is not impossible, moreover, that if in addition to the private refutation now under way we also had Government refutation in still larger amounts, that the two combined would produce a dangerously unhealthy boom.

There are, of course, many who think that artificial measures are never warranted. They may be right, though I think our situation in 1933 called for them. But in public affairs, as in medicine, the resort to artificial stimulants, even when it is necessary, is dangerous and habit-forming. The good doctor and the good statesmen are those who know how big a dose of stimulants is necessary and, above all, when to stop giving them.

Taking the situation as a whole, it seems to me very clear that the time has come to say that the dose now being administered is the last one, and that the next budget is to be balanced.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—KENTUCKY'S acid-tongued Alben Barkley, the one man in the Senate who has taken the verbal measure of Huey Long, turned his batteries on Senator Millard Tydings the other day.

The Marylander was demanding a processing tax on shoddy.

"I think it is a 'shoddy' argument the Senator is making," interjected Barkley.

"The Senator," replied Tydings, "has a way of always making speeches in another Senator's time without even bothering the Chair to obtain recognition, and that is the shoddiest thing I know of."

The Senator ought to know about shoddy," retorted Barkley. "That is something on which he is an expert."

Note: According to Webster's dictionary, shoddy is either a "fluffy, fibrous waste from wool carding" or "an unfit person or thing claiming superiority."

Cotton Pool.

NEW DEAL'S E. L. Deal, manager of a certain pool which has kept a lot of farmers' heads above water, has this story to tell about a Texas cotton farmer.

One day early in June a farmer walked into the office of the County Agent in Lubbock, Texas. He looked dejected. He explained he had borrowed money until he couldn't borrow any more, and that his mules were starving.

"Is there going to be any more of that there pool money?" he asked. He was not referring to the "swapping" plan under the Bankhead Act, which allows farmers who have a short crop to make a trade with farmers who have a long crop. The result is that the fellow with more cotton than he is allowed to sell tax-exempt, pays the fellow who has tax-exempt certificates to spare, and helps pull him out of the hole.

"If there's no more of that money comin', I reckon I gotta go down the road to the relief, 'cause I come to the end of my rope."

There was more money coming. It amounted to $42 in his case.

AAA officials are proud of this pool, point out that it is no Government subsidy, but a straight man-to-man exchange between farmers. Thus cotton growers in the Carolinas who had big crops last year paid their own money to drought-stricken growers in Texas and Oklahoma. It amounts to a co-operative crop insurance plan. Even administrative expenses are paid by the farmers.

This is what lies back of the announcement made last week that the pool would be operated again this year.

Chester Davis.

THE fight waged by Chester Davis in defense of his A.A. processing taxes is not the first of his life.

The first fight occurred years ago when he was a farm boy in Iowa. Living on rented acres near Linden, young Chester was obliged to drive to town one rainy day in the open farm wagon.

He had his mind that. But he did his having to wear his sister's cape and her yellow button shoes.

Things got worse when he arrived in town. Town boys spotted him, pointed at the shoes and cape, laughed hilariously. Young Chester pulled in the reins, climbed down from the wagon, and sailed into them.

It was a tough fight, but when it was over there was not much left of the scoffers—or of sister's cape.

Butter Conscious.

THE dairy industry is out to make the housewife butter conscious. That is the reason they behind the new drive on Capitol Hill to slap a tax on oleomargarine.

The sales volume of oleo has mounted steadily. For the first six months of this year its consumption was more than double that of the same period in 1934.

The corresponding loss to dairymen has been terrific. To many matters worse, large dairy areas that were hit by last year's drought are again in full production and this year's butter "make" promises to be a high one. Already cold storage stocks are reported to be "90,000,000 lbs. greater than in August of last year."

So, like many other industries, the dairymen are clamoring for Government help to help boost sales.

Representative Richard M. Kleberg, one of the largest cattle owners and dairy producers in Texas, is fathering a bill to tax all oleomargarine if it is made from imported ingredients. The powerful National Co-operative Milk Producers Federation, which maintains a permanent lobby in Washington, wants to go further.

It proposes a flat 5-cent tax on all oleo regardless of where its ingredients come from. Only by such drastic measures, the Federation argues, can the butter makers hope to compete with the substitute.

Merry-Go-Round.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT'S stamp collection is far more valuable today than in 1932. Since he became President, he has received from China a complete set of stamps current in 1934, and from the children of Holland and the President of Costa Rica collections of their countries.

Professor Raymond Moley of Columbia University is listed among the instructors in J. Edgar Hoover's special school for G-Men. One of the courses is pistol practice, conducted in a sound-proof range in the basement.

Members of the Securities and Exchange Commission are denied the right to trade on the market. Recently two members of the staff were forced to cancel orders for a gold mining stock, though their funds were based only on public records.

A gallery visitor in the House of Representatives the other day pointed to a young member who was running his hands through his dark hair.

"What's his real name?" he asked. "That's what I'm asking. He is called 'The Visitor'."

He was told it was Congressman Marcan-ton. The visitor laughed. "Don't kid me. What's his real name?"

... Pants from window shades is the transformation performed by FERA workers in Shawnee County, Kan. Heavy window shades were rolled into a vat to remove sizing, then women cut and sewed them into pants to clothe 30 boys in relief families.

METHODISTS CONSIDER NEGRO CONFERENCE

Major Question Before Leaders Discussing Proposed 'United Church.'

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—The Negro's place in the proposed "United Methodist Church" was a major question before church leaders who gathered to complete the plan for union today. The issue was involved in a regional conference set-up suggested as for the united denomination.

It promised debate even more lively than the three-hour argument that ended with tentative approval yesterday of the "United Methodist Church" as the name for John Wesley's reunited followers.

Negro Methodists would be given a regional conference of their own under a constitution submitted to a joint commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Methodist Episcopal Church South and the Methodist Protestant Church.

Opposition to separation of the Negroes on the grounds of discrimination was heard among the conferees.

Emphatic denial of any attempt to discriminate against the 300,000 Negro churchmen was made by Bishop E. D. Mounson of Charlotte, N. C.

"We intend to give the Negroes more than they ever had before," he said.

On a map prepared for the commission's study, the five other proposed conferences of the United Church were outlined as follows:

Northeastern conference—The New England states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

Southeastern conference—Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Florida, Cuba, Puerto Rico.

North Central—Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia.

South Central—Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana.

Western—North and South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, Washington, Oregon, California, Alaska, Hawaii.

CAREER OF GEN. WESTOVER, NEW ARMY AIR CORPS CHIEF

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Brigadier General Westover, who will become acting chief of the Army Air Corps when Maj. Gen. Benjamin O. Foulois goes on leave in September, prior to his retirement, is a "flying General" with one of the best rounded-out records in the Army's flying service.

He has served nearly four years as assistant chief of the corps and will succeed Foulois from Sept. 22 until Dec. 22, when his own assignment to that office ends. President Roosevelt is expected to name successors to both Foulois and Westover soon.

Westover, who was born in Bay City, Mich., 32 years ago, enlisted in the Army as a private in 1901, was appointed to West Point the next year, and since his graduation in 1906 has advanced through all ranks to his present position and acquired all his aeronautical ratings given by the air corps.

For his services, chiefly in organization work and production of air craft during the World War, Westover won the distinguished service medal.

In 1922 he won the national elimination free balloon race at Milwaukee by traveling to the vicinity of Lake St. John in Quebec Province, Canada, almost twice the distance of his nearest rival, in 16½ hours.

He may well be a Moses to lead one great division of American industry to some promised land.

NORMANDY TOWNSHIP WITHOUT CONSTABLE

A. J. Frank Refuses to Recognize County Court's Division of Old Central

Normandy Township, St. Louis County, one of three townships created by the County Court in a division of old Central Township last July 15, is without a constable as a result of the refusal of A. J. Frank, who held the office of the old jurisdiction, to recognize the County Court's action.

The court named Frank as Constable of Normandy Township, in accordance with the law requiring that the elected Constable of the old township continue to serve in the area where he resides. Frank, however, has refused to accept a commission, despite a ruling by Circuit Judge Mueller sustaining the County Court's action.

Frank said today he is proceeding to function for the old township and that his attorney would shortly file another suit seeking to invalidate the division.

Meantime the three salaried Justices of the Peace of the old area, Leslie T. Lewis of Maplewood, Bernard J. Stecker of Webster Groves and A. H. Werremeyer of Webster, who under the division would serve in the new townships of Jefferson, Clayton and Normandy, respectively, also refuse to recognize the change. However, legal processes have not been interrupted in their cases, since the County Court appointed additional Justices for each new jurisdiction, along with new Constables for the Jefferson and Clayton units.

Lewis, Stecker and Werremeyer, all of whom have offices at Clayton, are refusing to issue warrants on affidavits submitted by Prosecutors Attorney Anderson, since the affidavits bear the titles of the new townships. Anderson accepted the division as ordered by the County Court and has notified officers of the old jurisdiction that he would recognize them only in their new capacities.

The Constable of the new Clayton Township is Andrew Tegethoff, 7109 Kingsbury avenue, Clayton, and of Jefferson Township, Leonard W. Browne, 7209 Lyndon place, Maplewood. New Justices of the Peace are Frank Jacobs, Overland, for Normandy Township; F. P. Barth, University City, for Clayton Township; and James J. Ryan, Richmond Heights, for Jefferson Township. Frank resides in Overland.

Normandy Township includes the villages of Belleville, Clayton, East St. Louis, the unincorporated area of Webster, Normandy, Overland and Vinella Park and all other territory north of Olive Street road, east of Woodson road and north of Page avenue and Lackland road. The western boundary is half a mile west of Ballou road. Clayton Township is in the central part of old Central Township and Jefferson in the southern part.

JEW STAY HOME AS BERLIN GREETS BAITER STREICHER

his breast bearing the inscription, "I am a traitor," through the streets of Nurnberg, the wife of the American Ambassador gets excited about it.

"I would like to suggest to foreign countries that they take their part about lynching justice in America. Such a report would be worth while. We pay no attention to Negro executions, so people should not bother when we lead racial offenders through the streets."

Beginning at 10:30 a. m. the main thoroughfare leading to the Sportplatz, where Streicher spoke first, were closed to all travel of persons other than holders of tickets. He later addressed another meeting.

Streicher arrives by plane. Streicher came to Berlin by airplane this morning, accompanied by a large entourage. He was a striking figure in his light tan uniform and high black boots. As usual, he was bareheaded. Wherever he went he carried in his hand a black riding whip.

Jewish organizations counseled members of their race to keep off the streets. Count Von Helldorf, Berlin Police President who sympathizes with Streicher's views, ordered extra police on duty.

Welcome for Streicher. A spirited welcome was given the Nurnberg publisher. The city flamed with red Nazi posters inscribed with the sentiments that form so important a part of his utterances.

"We will give the right answer to Hebrews," read one of the cards. Other inscriptions were:

"The racial conscious people of Berlin give Streicher a hearty welcome."

More than 20,000 Jews have moved to Berlin recently.

"Jews, with their cheekbones, can be seen along the Kurfurstendamm and in theaters and cafes. Streicher has instructed many Germans through Dr. Stuermer."

Jewish Paper Suppressed. Meanwhile measures against Jews which are gradually eliminating them from business piled up. The principal Jewish paper, "Israelitische Familienblatt," was ordered suppressed until Nov. 10.

Four Jewish-owned theaters in Hanover were closed by the police after a street demonstration against them.

The Mayor of Dortmund issued an order barring Jews from the municipal pawnshop or attend its auctions. Pawn checks purchased from Jews will be neither renewed nor redeemed, the order provides.

An order acting for Jews will be barred from the auction. The first "state enemy" arrest in the Saar was reported when a Jewish haberdasher was taken into

EARLY MISSOURI CORN DAMAGED BY HEAT

Moisture Situation, However, Is Fairly Satisfactory in Southeast Section.

Early corn in Missouri has been badly damaged by heat and drought, according to the Missouri Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin of the United States Department of Agriculture. Weather Bureau for the week ending Tuesday.

"Maximum temperatures," the report reads, "reached 104 degrees on one day at several stations in the northwest and 106 degrees at Warrenton in the west-central portion. In the eastern half it was not quite so warm, but 101 degrees was reached at Jefferson City, 97 degrees at St. Louis, and 103 degrees at Poplar Bluff. This was the fifth week of very warm weather in the west-ern counties since the third week in the eastern counties."

A decided change to cooler occurred on the twelfth and thirteenth. "No rainfall of importance occurred north of the Missouri River this week, except in a few spots. There was very little rain south of the Missouri river until the twelfth, when good showers occurred at many places in the southeastern quarter and at a few places in the southwestern counties; but rain is still needed over most of the southern half. In Northern Missouri crops are suffering almost generally and in large areas they have been severely damaged already. The same may be said of much of the southwestern quarter. In the southeastern quarter the moisture situation is generally fairly satisfactory."

Lewis, Stecker and Werremeyer, all of whom have offices at Clayton, are refusing to issue warrants on affidavits submitted by Prosecutors Attorney Anderson, since the affidavits bear the titles of the new townships. Anderson accepted the division as ordered by the County Court and has notified officers of the old jurisdiction that he would recognize them only in their new capacities.

BUYING PACE SLOWER AND SELECTIVE LEADERS OFF

Stock Market Exhibits Strength in Spots As Profit Taking Holds Back Some Issues—Oils Prominent.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The stock market exhibited strength in spots today, although profit-taking held back many of the leaders.

Scattered markets, oils and industrial specialties were in demand, while most of the general market company issues did little more than mark time. The close was irregular. Transfers approximated 1,500,000 shares.

The action of the list, as a whole, was not viewed pessimistically by the majority of technicians, although a correct movement was expected by some brokers. The slow-down of the trading activity, together with the high degree of selectivity that prevailed, engendered caution in the boardrooms.

Wheat and corn rallied and cotton received late buying after a slow start. U. S. Government securities were somewhat heavy and other bonds were mixed. Foreign exchanges were quiet although sterling edged up to a new year's top.

Shares of Spiegel-Meyer-Stern got up 3 points and Auburn Automobile climbed about 2. American Sumatra advanced a point on the volume of an "extra" for the stock. Others up fractions on a roundabout point, included Chrysler, Studebaker, Montgomery Ward, American Chain, U. S. Freight, Electric Power & Light, Seaboard Oil, Standard Oil of California, Standard Oil of New York, National Distillers and Schenley.

Among losers of as much as a point or so were Allied Chemical, American Can, U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, Western Union, Consolidated Gas, American Telephone, Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern Pacific and U. S. Smelting.

Corn finished with advances of 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents a bushel and wheat was up 1/4 to 1/2 Oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher. Cotton ended with gains of 5 to 8 cents a bale. In late dealings sterling was advanced at 4.93, and the French franc was 0.04 of a cent improved at 6.64 1/2 cents. Belgian and Swiss francs firmed .01 of a cent each and guilders advanced .04. Canadian dollars were 1-16 of a cent easier at 99.8 1/2 cents.

Imported bar silver at New York was reduced 3/4 of a cent an ounce to 65 1/2 cents, the lowest rate since April 10, last, despite Secretary Morgenthau's announcement that the Treasury yesterday purchased more than 25,000,000 ounces of the metal. The London rate also advanced although renewed American buying kept the unofficial price steady.

Dun & Bradstreet reported that the uptrend in bank clearings had assumed a slower pace. For the week ended Wednesday an increase of 7.2 per cent over the 1934 week was noted. In the previous week the gain amounted to 3.6 per cent. Most of the utilities appeared to be waiting for something more definite on the fate of the holding company measure. The opinion was advanced that power stocks, instead of moving as a group, were being governed by individual situations in much the same way as the industrials have been.

Overnight Developments. Earnings reports were being studied closely. International Nickel's half-year profit of 64 cents a share compared with 62 cents in the corresponding 1934 period was about in line with expectations. Columbia Gas reported earnings of 26 cents a common share for the 12 months ended June 30, against 47 cents in the preceding year. Thoughts of great disturbances to stockholders were revived by the action of U. S. Gypsum directors in declaring a 25-cent extra dividend.

Financial men interpreted as constructive the report that, for the first time since February, new life insurance production of 42 leading companies in July showed an increase over the same month last year. The July total was up 30.2 per cent.

Day's 15 Most Active Stocks. Closing price and net change of the 15 most active stocks: Consolidated Oil, 9 1/2, up 1/2; Chrysler, 61 1/2, up 1/2; General Motors, 42 1/2, down 1/2; Electric Power & Light, 6 1/2, unchanged; General Electric, 32 1/2, down 1/2; American Radiator, Standard Sany, 18 1/2, down 1/2; Radio, 11 1/2, down 1/2; Canadian Pacific, 11 1/2, down 1/2; Columbia Gas & Electric, 10 1/2, down 1/2; United Corporation, 5 1/2, down 1/2; Allegheny, 2 1/2, up 1/2; Montgomery Ward, 35 1/2, up 1/2; Anaconda, 17 1/2, down 1/2; Commonwealth & Southern, 2 1/2, down 1/2.

Merger Plan Voted. NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Stockholders of the Fox Film Corporation voted today to approve the recapitalization plan and merger with Twentieth Century Pictures.

The stockholders in a special meeting authorized an increase in capital stock to 800,000 shares from 250,000. Of these 1,500,000 shares are to be preferred and 1,000,000 shares common. Sidney R. Kent, Fox Film president, then announced the vote authorizing the merger with Twentieth Century.

PRICE OF SILVER CONTINUES TO DECLINE

Associated Press.
[Aug. 15.—Despite heavy selling, the world price of silver declined today, although at a slower rate than yesterday. The price for commercial use declined 1/4 of a cent to 80 1/2 cents, a new low since April 10, unchanged at 67 1/2 cents the spot in New York followed a decline of 1/4 of a penny to a penny in London.
Silver circles attributed the further liquidation of over-extended accounts in the British market during April to the fact that United States Treasury is rapidly bidding the world's statutory American price.
It is pointed out that during the April price reached a peak of 81 1/2 cents, but that the price has since declined around the top price was their margin was running and were, perhaps, being London banks.

Her Husband's Secretary.
Wives Kill the Other Woman. Why?
Mrs. Lindbergh's Book.
Pork on the Hoof.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

MRS. ETTA REISMAN has a husband who runs a chain of beauty parlors, and Mr. Reisman had a blonde secretary, but his wife killed her, and presented a pathetic spectacle as policemen led her into court.

That wife, "killer of the other woman," drooping, half-fainting, two men holding her up, has appeared in history, at every stage, from cave days to our day. A jury, of men, especially, will find it hard to punish this particular crime as they would punish a murder for profit, or any motive other than jealousy, so powerfully described in the Bible.

Mrs. Etta Reisman's husband, employer of the blonde secretary, made a serious mistake when he told his wife, according to police, that he loved his secretary, who had lived with him and his wife for seven years. The secretary was shot. Men think they understand women, but do not.

Every married man is living with a being of whom he understands about 10 per cent. The other 90 per cent he would not understand, even if she told him about it.

That emphasizes the importance of staying married, since one lifetime is not long enough to understand one woman thoroughly.

And everything you learn is interesting, important and charming, usually.

Mrs. Anne Morrow Lindbergh has written her book, telling among other things, of her flight to the Far East by the Northern route. She describes Col. Lindbergh on their flight "searching for a crack in the fog through which to slip," and considers fog the great danger.

It will be unimportant when men fly above all fogs rising straight up from the earth to a height at which there is NO WEATHER, always a gentle wind toward the east, coming down with automatic instruments making accident impossible.

A marvelous little mechanism that enables telephone customers to pick out a number among thousands will be duplicated by instruments enabling the plane to pick out its own landing.

New York's City Hall Park is to be transformed into a New England "village green." The plan, all approved, would have the big Government Postoffice torn down.

There will be neat little paths, with grass on each side, and perhaps boxwood, all very pretty and appropriate among the skyscrapers. Perhaps New England villagers will retaliate by changing their village greens into modest sky-rapper aggregations.

Something in human nature demands something "different," like a solid iron deer or Newfoundland dog on a beautiful lawn.

A shortage in hogs increases. Pork on the hoof has gone to a new high price, and half the hog pens in Chicago stockyards are closed. Critics say it was a mistake to butcher too many "farrow sows."

A Government spokesman says "we only butchered 600,000 such sows to keep down the pig supply." Even 600,000 slaughtered farrow sows might be called a good many when you remember that a sow usually produces from 10 to 12 little pigs at a time.

The increase in hog prices is said to have risen 350 per cent within two years, which means something to many housewives.

What will history writers say of civilization in the greatest American city when they read that an important college puts up signs warning that it is unsafe to enter Central Park, finest park in the city, after sundown, and unsafe to enter certain other parks at any time of day?

That condition could not have prevailed in the days of old Alexander Williams of New York's police. But his methods could not be tolerated now. They would seem too brutal, especially to outlaws that practice crime in New York's parks. Williams discouraged crime by making it painful.

him. He calls mother his wife when people are tish, inside, tells her she
the word's work, cook and
the most unattractive woman
he knows.

Last winter we walked three miles to school and then would be greeted by a lot of sneers and wist cracks from my father. His first plan of making us walk didn't stop us so he tried to kill us with
work after school so we couldn't
study; but that didn't keep us
from school. He cut our allowance and also our lunch money.
My sister and I stopped going
places for lack of clothing.

The final blow is that Dad has gamble away all our savings and lost our home. Dad makes about $200 a month, but we never see a cent except for food.

No one outside the family knows
the truth. People often tell mother
what a wonderful man he is because he cuts the grass, paints
the house, etc., plays ball with
the brother outside, then goes into
the house and beats and beats
him. He calls mother his "little wife" when people are around;
tish, inside, tells her she is
the word's work, cook and
the most unattractive woman
he knows.

Last winter my sister and I both
looked terrible; lost weight and
were sick. She's sent away a boy
she really loved because Dad was always taking her for money
to pay his debts. And all through this, I never heard my sister complain and she is always dear to everyone, because of her sunny nature. She has left home and is living with people who love her as a daughter. The boy has returned to her and they are happy.

Martha Carr, what would you do?
If I don't find a place before school
begins, I'll be playing the harp
with the angels or shoveling coal
with the devils. I am willing to do anything just to get away from this place called "home." My father
would be glad to have me leave home.

HOPEFUL.

Your father seems to have had a long career without interruption or repetition. If you feel that your mother will not suffer too much
from your leaving, that the work will not be so heavy she cannot stand it; then I think you
should do as your sister has done
and find a place elsewhere. But you should see your mother as often as you can, for she is sure
to be living much of her life in
you. I am sorry to say that I do not happen to know of a place for
you, but may hear of something.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

REPLYING to your lovely letter
with reference to old stove, will say that I met with one of our committees this morning and
immediately called on Mrs. Fred B.
He gave us the stove, thanks to you
and she asked me to advise you of the same, as she had stated to you
that she had canceled the offer.
But, after our explanation that our troop was badly in need of this, she said she thought we were the ones
who needed it most. And one of your readers also gave us a kitchen cabinet—and if you want to see a Scout
troop that is very grateful to you,
come to our meeting any Thursday night after 7 o'clock p. m.
at East Grand Boulevard Presbyterian Church, 19th and East Grand

mittee men who made it possible
for us to get a 75 acre farm 5 miles
west of Eureka, Mo.

I want to congratulate the Troop
and to thank those who were so
generous in presenting these needed items. I only wish it were possible for me to accept your invitation, but I am obliged to deprive myself the pleasure because
of lack of time.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

AM a boy 16 years old. Would
you please tell me how to get rid
of unsightly pimples on my face
and shoulders and back? They come mostly on my forehead. I do not want to seem vain or anything
like that, but I imagine they are rather revolting to people who look at them. Please do not suggest anything very expensive. T. H.

I have some printed instructions
about blackheads and pimples
which I shall be glad to mail you
if you will send self-addressed, stamped envelope.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By Martha Carr

Dear Mrs. Carr:

I HAVE waited to see if anyone would present a problem like mine. But no one has seemed to be in the same boat and so I will ask your advice.

At 15, I am rather down and out—never seem to have a good time and am worried and sick a great deal of the time. Our doctor said last spring that I seemed to be under some kind of a strain.
But my father thinks I know twice as much as the doctor and said, "If she don't quit moping around, I'll fix her."

At times I want to kill myself,
and if things do not change, I will.
In the fall I would like to go back to school. My father thinks I'm going to stay and be a nurse, butler, maid, etc. I do not intend to marry, and repeat it the rest of my life as my mom is doing now.

Last winter we walked three
miles to school and then would be
greeted by a lot of sneers and
wist cracks from my father. His
first plan of making us walk didn't
stop us so he tried to kill us with
study; but that didn't keep us
from school. He cut our allowance and also our lunch money.
My sister and I stopped going
places for lack of clothing.

The final blow is that Dad has
gamble away all our savings and
lost our home. Dad makes about $200 a month, but we never see a
cent except for food.

No one outside the family knows
the truth. People often tell mother
what a wonderful man he is
because he cuts the grass, paints
the house, etc., plays ball with
the brother outside, then goes into
the house and beats and beats
him. He calls mother his "little
wife" when people are around;
tish, inside, tells her she is
the word's work, cook and
the most unattractive woman
he knows.

Last winter my sister and I both
looked terrible; lost weight and
were sick. She's sent away a boy
she really loved because Dad was
always taking her for money
to pay his debts. And all through
this, I never heard my sister complain and she is always dear to
everyone, because of her sunny nature. She has left home and is living with people who love her as
a daughter. The boy has returned
to her and they are happy.

Martha Carr, what would you do?
If I don't find a place before school
begins, I'll be playing the harp
with the angels or shoveling coal
with the devils. I am willing to do anything just to get away from this place called "home." My father
would be glad to have me leave
home.

HOPEFUL.

Your father seems to have had a long career without interruption or repetition. If you feel that your mother will not suffer too much
from your leaving, that the
work will not be so heavy she can-
not stand it; then I think you
should do as your sister has done
and find a place elsewhere. But
you should see your mother as
often as you can, for she is sure
to be living much of her life in
you. I am sorry to say that I do
not happen to know of a place for
you, but may hear of something.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

REPLYING to your lovely letter
with reference to old stove, will
say that I met with one of our
committees this morning and
immediately called on Mrs. Fred B.
He gave us the stove, thanks to you
and she asked me to advise you of
that she had canceled the offer.
But, after our explanation that our
troop was badly in need of this, she
who needed it most. And one of your readers also gave us a kitchen cabinet—and if you want to see a Scout
troop that is very grateful to you,
come to our meeting any Thurs-
day night after 7 o'clock p. m.
at East Grand Boulevard Presbyterian Church, 19th and East Grand
—and meet our troop and the committee men who made it possible
for us to get a 75 acre farm 5 miles
west of Eureka, Mo.

LAMBERT STEZLENI
Troop 266.

I want to congratulate the Troop
and to thank those who were so
generous in presenting these needed items. I only wish it were possible for me to accept your invitation, but I am obliged to deprive myself the pleasure because
of lack of time.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

AM a boy 16 years old. Would
you please tell me how to get rid
of unsightly pimples on my face
and shoulders and back? They come mostly on my forehead. I do not want to seem vain or anything
like that, but I imagine they are
rather revolting to people who look
at them. Please do not suggest anything very expensive. T. H.

I have some printed instructions
about blackheads and pimples
which I shall be glad to mail you
if you will send self-addressed,
stamped envelope.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature.
Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an address and stamped envelope for personal reply.

Brief Outlines Of the Movies For the Week

W. C. Fields Comedy on Screen—Gable and Harlow Teamed in Film.

CELEBRATING its eleventh anniversary, Loew's tomorrow offers the melodrama, "China Roses," with Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery in the important roles. The background is the trade lane from Hongkong to Singapore, the last region in the waters of the globe where pirates may be found. Gable is the two-fisted skipper of a trading vessel, Miss Harlow, an exotic transient known as "China Doll," and Beery
the "brains" of a pirate gang traveling under the guise of a big trader. The thrills which attend the cruise "wrote themselves," according to the authors of the screen play. The picture marks a reunion of the three stars, who were together five years ago in "The Secret Six." Supporting parts are Lewis Stone, Rosalind Russell, Dudley Digges, Robert Benchley, C. Aubrey Smith and Beery's small daughter, Carol Ann. Tay Garnett, who directed, expects a cycle of pictures on China and Japan to follow his production. An argument, he points to 50 novels written on China in the last 20 months, more than 200 short stories on China and Japan in leading magazines.

THE young romance team of Nancy Carroll and George Murphy is seen in its third picture,
"After the Dance," which opens at the Missouri today, on the bill with "Mystery Man." In "After the Dance," Murphy is a night club entertainer unjustly convicted and sent to prison on a manslaughter charge. He escapes and after being befriended by Miss Carroll, gets a job with her as a dancer, wearing a mask to escape detection. His nemesis seeks him out and he has to go back to the penitentiary but leniency is promised and Nancy can wait. The picture, in plot, resembles "Jealousy" and "I'll Love You Always," in which Miss Carroll and Murphy have appeared together before. Both are former musical company headliners. Miss Carroll made her stage debut in "The Passing Show" of 1923, was in "The Passing Show" of 1924, "Nancy" and "The Music Box Revue." Murphy, who started out with the London company of "Good News" in 1927, has been in "Hold Everything," "Of There I Sing," "Shoot the Works" and "Rebels." In the cast of "After the Dance" are Thelma Todd, Jack La-Rue, Arthur Hohl and the Albertina Rasch girls. "The Mystery Man," with Robert Armstrong and Maxine Doyle, is a story of newspaper reporting and crime.

W. C. FIELDS' comedy, "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," with Charles Rogers and Betty Grable, are on the bill which the Orpheum presents tomorrow. In
"The Man on the Flying Trapeze," Fields is a down-trodden clown, perpetually nagged by his wife and mother-in-law and consistently aided in his scrapes by his daughter, Mary Brian. The action centers about his efforts to attend a wrestling match. Fields' contract permits him to write his own stories and direct his own pictures. His picture so far has been "Charles Bogle," appears among the screen credits.
He never plays a scene twice the same way and with alternate belowing and mumbling of lines, he wrecks sound men to death. "Old Man Rhythm" makes "Buddy" Rogers' return to the screen after three years away, during which he has appeared on Broadway, has led his orchestra at the Chicago World's Fair and has been in pictures abroad. The new musical has a college background but steers away from the football angle. Six song numbers by Lou Dennis and John Mercer figure in the show. George Barber, Barbara Kent and Grace
Bradley are in the featured cast.
The minor players of "The Man on the Flying Trapeze" are Kathleen Howard, Grady Sutton,
Vera Lewis, Oscar Apfel, Lucien Littlefield and Lew Kelly.

THE Shubert, also changing its bill tomorrow, has "We in the Money," with Joan Blondell, Glenda Farrell and Hugh Herbert,
and "Without Regret," co-starring Eileen Land and Paul Cavanaugh.
Misses Blondell and Farrell, in their new comedy, take the roles of process servers in breach of promise suits. On fugitive from a subpoena is Ross Alexander, whom Miss Blondell comes to love during the chase. A scene, taken at Williamson, Cal., required Miss Blondell to take three duckings in the harbor,
which she did in the most sports-manlike manner, according to reports. Breach of promise, so often Miss Farrell's forte on the screen, is something she does not like in the least. "The laws already passed in a few states ought to be made universal," she says, "so that neither breach of promise nor alienation of affections suits could be stated. Real love is, and ought to be, so-so proposition." "Without Regret," from a successful stage play of a woman, married to a famous surgeon, whose past proves
a stumbling-block to her happiness,
when a former sweetheart returns.

THE Shirley Temple musical,
"Curly Top," will not arrive at the Fox Theater until Saturday, with an unannounced second picture on the same bill. Miss

LAWRENCE TIBBETT

The First Efforts of the Noted Baritone
Gave Small Promise of Future Success

Tibbett when he made his debut
in 1927.

By H. H. Niemeyer

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14.

HE forgot both words and music of the religious hymn that was to have been the vehicle for his first public appearance. Eight years later he failed to make the high school glee club.

Such was the discouraging start of Lawrence Tibbett as a singer.
These failures, and the fact that he had no conscious desire to become a singer, offered little to indicate the future ahead of the man who was to become the great baritone today.

Born in the small town of Bakers-field, Cal., now chiefly famed for its clustered spires of oil derricks, Tibbett knew no interest in his present career until he became of age.

His mother did want him to sing and it was she who became his first teacher. She sang in the church choir of the Bakersfield Methodist church. At six she presented him to an audience of 40 neighbors at a church social to sing
the hymn mentioned.

The excitement of facing his first audience overcame him, the lad forgot the words and music and could merely open and close his mouth. In despair, his mother rose and announced to the 40 neighbors that he would then sing the "Star Spangled Banner." The audience joined to sing his voice from breaking. Thus the great baritone made his first public appearance.

Tibbett's grandparents had come to California in the gold rush of '49. His father was variously Sheriff, Deputy Sheriff and range rider in Bakersfield. When the boy was 7, the father lost his life in a gun battle with Jim McKinney, local bad man. At the head of a posse seeking to arrest the outlaw for four murders and a stage coach robbery,
the elder Tibbett followed him into a Chinese Joss house and was mowed down by a shotgun. Another shot killed Sheriff Jeff Packard.
But Lawrence's Uncle George, a Deputy Sheriff, brought the outlaw down with a shot between the eyes.

WITH her brood of children to support the mother took her family to Long Beach and invested some insurance money in a small hotel, but the venture failed
after a few years. When Lawrence was 12 the family moved to Los Angeles and by the time he was ready to enter Manual Arts High School the boy had ambitions but not to become a singer. His ambition was to become a dramatic actor.

In high school Lawrence was a scrappy lad and of rather frail health. Erecting a horizontal bar in his back yard, he acquired acrobatic skill and muscle. He tried out for school athletic teams, without success. But he did build a robust physique. At 21 he was a 200-pound man, six feet tall.

It was at 21 that he first found his voice.

Temple, who passed her sixth birthday just before starting "Curly Top," is now on a vacation in Hawaii, but will return to do "The Little Rebel." Her studio also has two other stories on tap for her.
"Curly Top" is a musical, in which Shirley, as the irrepressible cut-up at an orphanage, sings "When I Grow Up" and "Animal Crackers
in Her Soup." John Boles, young millionaire who adopts her and falls in love with her grown sister, Rochelle Hudson, also sings, and Miss Hudson tries her vocal cords in melody. Going after the title of the best-dressed screen actress, Shirley makes 18 changes of wardrobe in the film. Music is by Ray Henderson.

One-fourth teaspoon paprika.
Four tablespoons flour.
Four slices bacon.

with salt, paprika and flour. Cover with bacon. Bake 15 minutes in moderate oven. Add one-half cup basting liquid, cover, lower fire and bake one hour or until fish is very tender when tested with fork. Add one-fourth cup basting liquid every 15 minutes.

LAWRENCE TIBBETT and his son, MICHAEL.

Frank La Forge, coach of Mrs.
Frances Alda, wife of Gatti-Casas-za, then director of New York's Metropolitan. It was their agreement that if Lawrence, then 24, did not succeed by the age of 30, he was to return to Los Angeles and take over a job selling motor trucks.

It is interesting that Rupert Hughes and Frank La Forge are responsible for the fact that the baritone is today Lawrence Tib-bett and not Lorenzo Tibeto or other such "Italian" personage.

It had long been the practice for American singers to acquire both foreign training and foreign name before making their American debut. It lent prestige if not more ability. Tibbett was discouraged by his failure to progress and he had decided to substitute an Italian name in lieu of some ocean trips and foreign study he could not afford. Hughes and La Forge dissuaded him and he became one of the first American singers to succeed at the Metropolitan using his own name.

After several months of coaching, La Forge secured him an addition to the Metropolitan, but the order was too much and the untried young baritone failed. By prevailing on Mme. Alda, the teacher got his pupil a second chance. This time he won a contract. For the first season he was paid $60 a week for 22 weeks with the contract raising his salary to $150 by the end of the third year.

The first season amounted to little. "Carmen," with a role opposite Jeritta, was his best opportunity.
He left a sick bed to do it and had a relapse. The doctors diagnosed spinal meningitis. But three weeks later he was out of the hospital ready to sing again. The doctors had been wrong.

His contract with the "Met" started in May, 1923. By January, 1925—his second season—the operatic world rocked for the first time to the voice of Lawrence Tibbett.

Tibbett stepped into the role of Ballaster when the noted Spanish baritone became ill. This happened during rehearsals of "Falstaff," which was to be given as a tribute performance to Antonio Scotti. The cast included Scotti, Gigli, Alda, Bori and Kathleen Howard. Frankly, his rehearsals were had and until the last moment, it was uncertain whether he would be allowed to go on.

BUT the night of the performance something happened. His voice "opened up." With an abandon and force that left the audience calling for him as the curtain dropped, Tibbett sang as never before. The next day his name and picture were in every New York newspaper. It was the first time an American without European training had triumphed on the Metropolitan stage.

In 1929 Tibbett came to Hollywood for his first picture, "The

or; an opponent's error brings down the house. Each mistake is a personal tribute to the prowess of the declarer, to be retold with many reminiscent chuckles.

"I'll never forget your expression," chortled the wife, "when the eight of clubs held the trick."

If this story had a happy ending
the shearer would have been shorn,
the trickster tricked; but, unfortunately, life is seldom that way.
Wellington doubtless rubbed it in on Napoleon; Timur probably jeered at his Asiatic captives. Defeat is not so bitter as the knowledge that it might have been avoided.

History is silent as to the process whereby six hearts was reached. Suffice it to say that that was the ultimate contract. And West made the sound opening of the queen of spades. His partner put on an encouraging eight spot.

The trick was won with the ace
in dummy and the king of hearts led. West thoughtfully ducked the trick and refused to win the jack.
Having failed to overtake, the wolf
now entered his hand with the ace of clubs, noting the drop of the ten with a faint glint of hope, and drove the ace of trumps by brute force.

That ten-spot meant something else in West again. He was seized with a sudden brain storm. He played back a low club.

As pointed out in the wolf's post-mortem conversation, the eight-spot held the trick. Despite this free gift of a trick the contract was not yet home. South still had a spade and a club loser. But the stage was set for a perfect double squeeze. South simply led out his last trump, the king of spades, and the king of clubs.

West, having to retain the queen of clubs, had to bear down to two diamonds, and East, forced to keep the ten of spades, also unguarded his diamond honor. The last three tricks were won with the ace, king and ten of diamonds.

Autumn Gift Suggestions In the Shops

St. Louis Stores Are Displaying Many Tokens of Appreciation.

By Sylvia Stiles

THE summer visitor who has waited until now to purchase a
"thank you" gift for her hostess will be rewarded for her tardiness.
Advance autumn merchandise has been arriving in the St. Louis shops so her gift will smack of the very latest fashion.

Novelty cigarette boxes, cleverly styled gadgets for what-not shelves, accessories for the serving of drinks
and many attractive pieces of pottery are included in the new collections. There is a modern flair about most of these new knick-knacks with white continuing to have a place of importance. Some stunning colors are included, however,
so that white undoubtedly will not be so certain of its hold in the line of decorative arts. Deep yellow, dark green and a very vivid blue are three shades that are shown extensively, one tiny bit of pottery or glass in any of the three being quite sufficient to gain a coveted position.

A line of inexpensive smoking accessories includes cigarette boxes
and ash trays of a new stone craft.
These pieces are available in white with colored decorations or in vivid plaid designs. The composition of which they are made has a glistering surface and a roughness suggesting stone. Flowers decorate some of the sets while modern scroll effects decorate others. Both oblong and round pieces are represented, all of the trays having separate compartments to hold a cigarette.

Glazed pottery smoking sets that have a modern look include fresh-ish birds and animals serving as a handle on the top. Also of pottery are some miniature animals that perform no duties but will be most successful as ornaments. The elephant is the most familiar of the group and is as likely to be yellow or green as white or gray. Tiny cactus plants in brightly colored pottery pots will add a touch of animation to a room.

An oddity among the gadgets
that women will want to purchase for themselves as well as to give is an orange peel box. Its chief claim to fame is its lovely pungent fragrance, realistic as to the fruit peeling from which it is made.
Striking designs either of birds or flowers decorate the covers of these boxes and make them lovely as well as unusual. Coins could be many, but powder boxes, coin holders or sachet containers have been suggested.

The hostess who has become an addict to the paper napkin vogue, especially the type displaying her own monogram, should be delighted to receive a festive gift of one of the new packages that come in super size. The new size means that guests at buffet parties as well as drinking bouts need not be given the cherished family linen.
Bar towels with monograms also are attractive, especially when the letters and designs appear in bold colors. One of the most arresting of the fabric bar novelties is a best towel with inscriptions in bold lettering painted on it.

The painted pigs that have been holding bright picks for hors d'oeuvres look rather prosaic beside the newer and more graceful swans. These are made of silver plate except for their heads,
which are of bright red composition. Platters of silver provide both sturdy and effective foundations.

Hors d'oeuvres servers are patterned after the wooden salad servers and should prove a popular gift item. These are made of natural colored wood and although quite tiny are handy pieces for the cocktail hour.

Lamps long have been considered among the popular giftwares but this August there is one certain model which has unusually appropriate features. This is called a "hurricane lamp" and has been so named because it dares strong winds to blow their hardest. A candle of old-time proportions, a chimney effect and plenty of wrought iron contribute to its value. Summer cottagers, especially, should find such a light to their liking and thank a visitor who solved a vexing problem.

A DOCTOR TALKS OF HEALTH

By Logan Clendening, M. D.

THOSE who regard Aug. 15 as the beginning of a period of illness and discomfort, should look back with feelings of gratitude and sympathy to an alert, nervous little man who could have been seen a little over a hundred years ago flitting in and out among the lanes of Kent and Sussex, collecting plants, butterflies, a curious bits of mineral formation, which he took home and mounted in his museum.

Dr. Clendening mounted in his museum. His name was John Bostock, and he gave the first clear account of hay fever.

Symptoms.

As to the description of his disease, he says: "About the beginning of middle of June in every year the following symptoms make their appearance, with a greater or less degree of violence. A sensation of heat and fullness is experienced in the eyes, first along the edges of the lids, and especially in the inner angles, but after some time over the ball is experienced. This state gradually increases, until the most acute itching and smarting, accompanied with a feeling of small points striking upon or darting into the ball, is experienced. This state of the eyes comes on in paroxysms, at uncertain intervals, from about the second week of June until about the middle of July. To this succeeds irritation of the nose, producing sneezing, which occurs in fits of extreme violence. To the sneezings are added a further sensation of tightness of the chest and difficulty of breathing. This account was written in 1811 when he was 46 years old. Bostock had no very clear idea of what caused the condition, although it seems certain to us with our knowledge, that he was suffering from hay fever. The fall hay fever which we have in rare there, because our prolific ragweed does not grow there."

Observation.

It is interesting to note that Bostock employed many remedies, and most of the sufferers will sympathize with him when he says: "Topical bleeding, purging, blisters, spare diet, bark and various other tonics, steel, opium, alternate courses of mercury, cold bathing, digitalis and a number of topical applications to the eyes, have been very fully tried, but it is doubtful whether any distinct or permanent benefit has been derived from any of them." He made this observation, however, "It may form an important addition to the narrative to state that during the last summer the patient was so situated as to be able to avoid almost every degree of bodily exertion; he remained confined to the house for about six weeks, and the result was that, notwithstanding the unusual warmth of the season, he experienced much less of the affection than he had done for several years before."

Derger Camps Outside Tiva Waiting for Dynamite to Open the Temple, When the Rock Opens.

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE.

DERGER glanced over his shoulder at his men who were putting together a rude hut at the edge of the pond. It was nearly up, only the sides to be laced to the woven roof. From the hut his eyes went to the water which was dull under the shadows of late afternoon.

Getting to his feet slowly, he walked over to it, dipped his hands into the water and bathed his face and head. With the drops of moisture clinging to his hair, he went back to the tree under which he had been sitting, and sank down on the stony ground.

He was facing the cliff of Tiva, and as he took out his pipe and filled it, he looked again upon the rock which was like a great wall. A slow cold smile played about his lips. The other wall up above, which had opened to the Irac leader was much the same, he decided. Much. The same formation, the same seams riding up into the stone, the same weathered reddish veins running through it.

Tiva had a door, Tiva could be entered. Tiva had been entered. It could be entered again, when Soames came back with the dynamite. Mira's story was true—but then he had thought it would be true. He had believed in Mira from the first.

As for the treasure, that would come later, when he went into the temple himself. Unless Tiva had been looted, it was there, and it was his.

This great rock a treasure house. This mountain which was not even mapped until he had mapped it himself.

He blew a ring of smoke through his lips and watched it curl in the still warm air 20 feet away to the rock of the cliff and break the circle.

Yes, he was satisfied. Day after tomorrow Soames would return with reinforcements, more food, and explosives. He knew exactly how he was going to go about opening the door. He had planned that out last night. Tonight the dead Iracs would be buried in a pit off the plateau—as soon as the sun went down and some of the heat went out of the air. An all-night job. Seventy of them, were there? That was Julian's count. He hadn't bothered to verify it himself.

This groans had gotten away—many of them wounded. Probably some of them had died on the trail down from Tiva. He hadn't bothered about verifying that, either, because he didn't care. They wouldn't come back, the sorry remnants of the tribe that was left. Even if they did, it wouldn't matter.

By the time they reorganized, their treasure would be gone. Besides there were too few of them, left to do any harm. Mira had said the Iracs were only 200 men, nearly as many women and 50 children. Barely a handful.

How content he felt! The knowledge that Cavanagh, Manuela, and Troy were somewhere about didn't disturb his feeling of well being, although this morning he remembered he had been distinctly annoyed when Julian brought the message himself. The annoyance had passed quickly, however, and he had barely given a thought to the two white men and brown woman since.

There was hardly a thought,

BEGIN HERE TODAY:
DERGER DERGER, wealthy owner of a Brazilian diamond mine, is obsessed with a desire to get his hands on the long-hidden treasure of an Indian tribe, the Iracs. To realize this ambition he sends his aide, WALTER JULIAN, to New York City for a blind girl to play the role of the legendary Irac goddess who is expected to appear before the tribe at Mount Tiva. Julian returns with LILLIS FARNOL, who "dreams from her native land, MANUELA, just why Derger has hired her. Derger leaves with Lilliss and a few natives, instructing Julian to remain behind and watch his secretary, JIM CAVANAGH, and his new engineer, RIAN TROY, both of whom must attempt to help the girl. Despite careful watching, Rian and Cavanagh get away, following Manuela over a shorter trail to Tiva. The Iracs accept Lilliss as their long-awaited goddess and open a secret door in the mountain which leads to their temple, the hiding place of their treasure. Rian gets inside the temple, and Cavanagh fires some shots outside thus drawing attention to the Iracs' party. Alarmed, the Iracs rush outside, leaving Lilliss and Rian imprisoned.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

either, for Lilliss Farnol who had played her part so well. The tools he used were discarded as soon as they had been of service and Lilliss had been a tool. A pretty tool, to be sure, but only a tool.

In the sunset light, the cliff was deeply gold, the veins and seams of it darkish brown. Two seams, he noticed, went almost to the top of it, two straight seams about four feet apart. He got to his feet and went over and ran his fingers along one of them. He hadn't noticed the peculiar lines before, when he had been looking at the rock for so long.

When he went back to his seat by the tree, he took a small notebook from his pocket, found a fresh page and sketched the lines with his other interlacing lines between and beyond. Then, while he was at it, he made a rough picture of the cliff itself which was the footstool of Tiva. His drawing was crude, but exact, and he worked quickly.

When he got back to the house, he would transfer the sketch into a book of drawings he had been making for years of rock formations.

Tomorrow he would study the wall of Tiva above, and sketch that, too, for the same conditions. At any rate it would be well to have the two in his files. Too bad he hadn't been able to find the secret of the entrance to Tiva, he thought, as his pencil filled in the minute details quickly. But he had wasted enough time as it was on the secret.

And Julian was probably wasting more time on it now, although Derger had particularly asked him not to. Dynamite would be quicker, for he knew where the door was, knew the exact location, even if he couldn't open it, even if there was nothing on the wall of Tiva to show that a door was there, but the weathered cracks and fissures. One further look at the cliff before he put his notebook away. He was taking it, comparing his lines with the weathered ones of Tiva, when he noticed, suddenly, that he was right. With lightning quickness he pulled a gun from his leather holster in his belt with his right hand, and with his left reached on the ground for another which was lying beside him. All the time he never took his eyes from the rock in front of him, the rock which was swinging out, moving, a slab of it as the one above had swung out when the Irac leader touched the hidden lock in Tiva's face.

The two guns leveled at the widening aperture, he rose to his feet, but he didn't move forward. He waited, breathing gently, evenly.

This is a surprise! he barked as he took a step ahead. "Down with the gun, Troy!"

Troy who had come from the door first, his gun in his hand, blinked at the change of light. "Down with the gun!" Derger ordered again. The movements back of him told him his men had heard and were coming.

A shot rang out, and Troy felt the gun leave his hand. Derger's bullet had knocked it away. "Out here!" came another command, and Rian moved forward, still half blinded by the queer, good, bright light, which hurt his eyes so much.

"So the girl is with you, too! Very nice. Glad to see you, Miss Farnol!"

Lilliss, who had followed Rian out, fell to the ground.

RIAN wondered again why Derger hadn't killed them at once. He was going to, surely—for they were prisoners and Derger had no use for prisoners. Tonight they would die or tomorrow. He would die now, if he moved, for the three brown men were sitting about 10 feet away, guns leveled in their hands, waiting, watching, as their master had told them to wait and watch.

Derger had gone, thank God—where Rian did not know or care, but it was better with him gone, for he only sat by his three men and watched, too. Saying nothing, doing nothing. For over an hour he had sat that way, then walked away, but the darkness swallowing him up, but the sound of his footsteps lingering a long time.

The cords that bound Troy's hands were strong. He had tried many times to strain them, break them, but couldn't. They were there to stay until—until what? Lilliss wasn't tied. She was lying on the ground in the hammock in which she had been brought to Tiva, very quietly, conscious now, but still weak, for although Troy had begged Derger to give her some food, he refused. However, he had provided the hammock for her and given her a little brandy. Rian turned his head to look at her—she wasn't far away—if his hands weren't tied he could reach out and touch her feet. The smile she gave him sent an ache through him. A brave smile that started with her eyes and ended with her

Extra Effort To Carry Out One's Destiny

By The Rev. J. F. Newton

HENRI BERGSON is one of the greatest living thinkers, to whom all of us are deeply in debt whether we know it or not. Some of us have waited for years for his latest book, which closes with these words:

"Men do not sufficiently realize that their future is in their own hands. There is the task of determining, first of all, whether they want to go on living or not."

"Their responsibility, then, for deciding if they want merely to live, or intend to make just the extra effort required for fulfilling, even on this refractory planet, the essential function of the universe, which is a machine for the making of gods."

Such words bring a man up with a start, and make him put the questions to himself, point-blank: Am I really living or merely keeping alive? Driving or drifting, living or loafing—what is it?

As a character in a recent play put it, "How tragic it is that people accept content with what is not life at all." They seem satisfied just to get by, unwilling to make the extra effort to live!

It is a beautiful world in which we live, so beautiful at times that it hurts. Every day beauty passes by with the sun on her wings but, alas, we do not make the effort to see it and rejoice in it.

A golden-hearted poet, who died the other day, spoke of a man "so wrapped in rectitude" that even his eyes were filmed a little with it, blinding him to life, making him not a god but just a grub.

How easy it is to lose faith, give up, let go, and turn cynic, lacking the extra effort to hold a high faith, live by it despite all odds, and fight for it if need be, lest we lose our very soul!

Many a home would be happier, sweeter, and more like Heaven, if we made the extra effort to be courteous, patient and kind. How many of our lives could be untwisted if we made the effort to do it!

A machine for the making of gods! What a world it would be if humanity made the extra effort to fulfill its destiny!

Fresh Fruit Salad
Eight rings pineapple. Eight halves pears. One cup black cherries, seeded. One-half cup salad dressing. Two-thirds cup whipped cream. Chill all ingredients. Arrange pineapple on lettuce, top with pears and cherries. Mix dressing with cream and pour over top. Serve at once.

After Using
Do not leave the clothesline out at all times. It not only means dirty smudges on the clothes, but results in a most unattractive backyard with lines strung across it at all times.

A leftover ham bone is a decided addition to pea and bean soups, even if they are made originally from a beef stock.

he sat but he knew he was there. He had heard Derger order him there. That was four men against one—all four men heavily armed. Derger was probably within call if he was wanted.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

by WYNN

For Friday, Aug. 16.

THE revised Golden Rule: "Do unto others as they would have you do unto them." Especially OK for today. Do you want to be popular? Then be agreeable on days when others don't want to be. It's a cinch. Try it today.

Hope Is Expectation.
The second greatest virtue man can develop is that of Hope. And just as the greatest light we receive that is not direct from the Sun is from the Moon, so is this virtue related to the Moon ray. Hope is derived from words in other languages meaning expectation, and it is through the Moon's position in our horoscopes that we can best make our hopes turn into realizations.

Your Year Ahead.
Your year ahead gives you more chance to realize on your efforts after Jan. 28—go to it. Choose new ways, new plans, take in distance. From May 8 care in joint funds. Danger: Aug. 29-Oct. 10; Dec. 24-Feb. 8; April 27 to June 10.

Tomorrow.
Deal with opposite sex; team up intellect and feelings, the former ruling. (Copyright, 1935.)

A Pitcher and a Glass
One mother solved the problem of making the milk more attractive to her child by serving the milk in a quaint pitcher and allowing the child to do her own pouring of it into her glass at the table. It was quite a ceremony and a surprising amount of milk was consumed during the process.

The Visitors Are Greatly Puzzled By the Magician

By Mary Graham Bonner

"YOU have come to see a magician," the magician spoke. "When I heard you calling me about your ears after you were in the house I was looking for the extra pair I had."

"An extra pair of ears?" asked Christopher Columbus. "I discovered things but this is beyond me."

"Just as Willy Nilly was about to look in the mirror," said the magician, "I attached the extra ears over his own. I did it so quickly that you did not notice it. Then when he turned around I took them off again. See, all of you were right in what you saw."

"Doing tricks is my business. I cannot give you a really new pair of ears," "Maybe you could give us the extra pair as Willy Nilly could wear them for dress-up occasions!" suggested Mrs. Quacko Duck.

The magician looked very doubtful. "It's one of my tricks," he said, "and a very popular one. You see there are times when I show my rabbit or my cat and then suddenly I say:

"Why, little pussy cat, you have ears like a little boy, or Bunnies what are you doing with that extra pair of ears on yours?"

"I can see you would not be able to part with any of the properties for your tricks," Willy Nilly said. "Oh, my," said the magician quickly, "there's my pussy cat right back to you, Mrs. Duck."

She turned and saw the cat, but in another moment the cat was perched on Willy Nilly's shoulder. This was certainly a strange house.

Let's EXPLORE Your MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

See Whether His Opinions Agree With Your Own

AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Science says the rights of organized society prevail the rights of individuals.

1.—I imagine the doctor is joking, but on the general average, beauty is not only an indication of health, but of intelligence as well. True, vast numbers of women are plain and extremely intelligent, but except when you come to a special type of rather masculine, but often extraordinarily brainy woman, good looks, health and intelligence tend to be a considerable degree—I suspect to a very high degree—to go together.

2.—One leading psychologist relates the case of a girl of 15 who he caught stealing when she was 12. Her mother and father had been divorced and the mother always sided against the girl. She said to the psychologist, "I don't like stealing or running away, but I've got to show my mother she can't handle me." He said, "When children commit these or other delinquencies it is usually for revenge."

3.—Psychologists differ so widely on this point that I hesitate to utter the least little peep, but perhaps it is safe to say that while we can set no limit to which we can educate any one, yet a child with a rating of 80 will very likely never reach the degree of education of one with a rating of 100, or a child with 100 reach the one with a rating of 140 or 150, provided they are all given about the same educational treatment. The chief value of intelligence tests is not in deciding in advance the upper educational possibilities of a child or an adult, but in telling us where to begin and what type of education will likely have the best results. From then on the true educator will assume the sky is the limit.

Garden Scene

By Oren M. Clark

JENNIE WATSON was conscious of a definite nervous tension as she went about the task of cutting flowers for the living room. She tried humming a little carefree tune, but it didn't relieve the tension any.

Tonight her whole happiness hung in the balance. The family had gone for a drive in the country. Don would be along any minute now and they'd have the house to themselves for once. It would be the last time, too, for Don's firm was sending him west tomorrow.

Tonight he'd probably ask the question he'd been trying to ask for the last two weeks—the question Jennie wanted very much to hear. A waning evening breeze stirred the old-fashioned wallflowers and petunias along the garden wall. It caught up their seductive odor and wafted it to her. Somehow, it seemed to Jennie, the flowers were offering advice—advice as old as love itself. She cut an armful of them and arranged them in vases.

The insistent ringing of a telephone interrupted her and she hurried inside to answer it. Don was sorry, he said, but he'd be a little late. He'd found a flat tire just as he was ready to start and would be delayed until he could change it.

It was nearly 10 o'clock when he arrived, tired and out of humor. "I'm sorry to have kept you waiting," he apologized. "It's just been one of those days. Everybody at the office was hot and grouchy, and to top it off I have to change a tire. Whew, but it's hot!"

Jennie was disappointed. This wasn't the mood she had hoped he'd be in on this night of all nights. She sat down in the garden seat in front of the pool.

"Say, this is a grand place," Don surveyed the garden appreciatively. "Why didn't you tell me about it?" "I wasn't sure men cared for gardens," Jennie smiled.

They sat together on the couch. Don placed his arm around her shoulder and drew her close. Jennie relaxed and let her blond head rest lightly on his shoulder. She looked up into his serious brown eyes.

"Talk to me, Don," she murmured. "I've been wanting to hear your voice all day." "But I'm afraid I'm not very good at talking," he said. "Fact is, when I'm near you I forget everything I had intended to say before-hand."

For perhaps five minutes they sat in silence. Then Don slipped a finger under her chin, tilted her head back on his arm until her face was close to his.

"There is something, I'd like to talk about," he breathed. Jennie looked into his eyes and felt a little thrill at what she saw there. "Tell me," she murmured.

He took a deep breath. "It's about..." An automobile stopped at the curb in front of the house; and the sound of voices interrupted him. Jennie sat up and listened.

"It's the folks," she said. "Don shrugged. 'It would be.' Jennie's father cornered Don and plunged him into the usual political discussion. Jennie squirmed uneasily and tried to maintain a respectful attitude. This, she thought, as her father rambled on, was the night she had dreamed of—had waited for."

It lasted, an hour, then Don glanced at his watch and said he'd have to go. Jennie glanced at him imploringly.

"Don't go—not yet," she begged. "I've got so much to do," he explained, "last-minute packing and so on."

ANOTHER half-hour slipped away. The conversation lagged. Don glanced at his watch and said he'd have to go. Jennie glanced at him imploringly.

ANOTHER half-hour slipped away. The conversation lagged. Don glanced at his watch and said he'd have to go. Jennie glanced at him imploringly.

They sat together on the couch. Don placed his arm around her shoulder and drew her close. Jennie relaxed and let her blond head rest lightly on his shoulder. She looked up into his serious brown eyes.

"Talk to me, Don," she murmured. "I've been wanting to hear your voice all day." "But I'm afraid I'm not very good at talking," he said. "Fact is, when I'm near you I forget everything I had intended to say before-hand."

"THE FIRST 'BLACKMAIL'—When Robert McGregor was born in 1671, an act of Parliament made it a felony punishable by death to bear the name of Clan Gregor, so the famous Scotch freebooter was compelled to bear the name of Campbell, after his mother's clan; but he is best known as Rob Roy (Red Robert) from his ruddy hair and complexion. Rob Roy's gang of freebooters were originally organized for the purpose of protecting their blocks from the depredations of Highland cattle thieves. Later they drifted into a "protection racket," levying tribute upon graziers in the wild Highland districts, in exchange for immunity from thieving raids. The tribute became known as "blackmail," from the black color of the arms worn by Rob Roy's men. Rob Roy died in 1734.

THE STRANGE HAT BALER—"Colonel," a 28-year-old farm horse at the farm of Louis Buehring, near Oshkosh, Wis., has recently surprised his owners by his antics as a hay baler. Colonel bites off the stubs of alfalfa, timothy or straw and rolls them around with his nose until they form geometrical spheres and cubes—in fact farm hands can play ball with them. Mr. Buehring reports that it takes the horse about 15 hours to make one sphere.

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER.

If you cannot soak the rich, the thrifty or the poor, there is one thing left to soak. And that's your head.

Whoever thought of the idea of dunking the poor in the vinegar of taxation certainly pickled himself.

There goes a man unwept, unhonored and unsung. For him no minstrel raptures swell. His idea of a national hook-up is a transcontinental roar of protest.

This Congress is trying to dig up new sources of income by going over the old ground twice.

The most sensible thing to do is to pour the red and black into one bottle and keep books that would fool everybody.
